U. S., BRITISH FLIERS DOWN 11 JAP PLANES IN BURMA

RANGOON, Burma, Jan. 24 (AP)—U. S. and British fighter pilots utterly wiped out a formation of seven big twin-engined Japanese bombers today in a wild dog-fight on the outskirts of Rangoon.

Four Japanese pursuit planes also were reported shot down and all the Allied planes returned safely to base. The sensational action, seen by cheering thousands at mid-day, brought the score for the combined RAF-Yankee defenders to 32 enemy planes downed in two days. Yesterday they bagged 21.

Heavy Loss in Luzon Battle

Washington
Jan. 24 (INS)

U. S. Official

By JOHN HENRY

Supported by naval and aircraft fire, Japan has launched an all-out attack on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's left flank, taking numerous positions with "heavy losses" on both sides, the War Department announced today.

In addition, the Department said in a communique, the Japanese have made new landings on the west coast of Luzon and are pouring reinforcements into the fray, "greatly increasing in numerical superiority of the invaders."

"The enemy," said the department, "succeeded in taking a number of positions on the west coast. Fierce counterattacks by our troops expelled the Japanese from some of these points, but others remain in possession of the enemy."

The communique painted the darkest picture of Gen. MacArthur and his valiant American-Philippine forces since the fall of Manila.

HEAVILY EXHAUSTED

...fenders already outnumbered ...ly 10 to 1, and with the Japanese admittedly landing reinforcements constantly, the words "heavy losses by both sides" carried an ominous note. Military observers agree that Gen. MacArthurs' whole strategy depends on his ability to hold his own losses to the minimum.

While the communique said American and Filipino troops are continuing their stubborn resistance, it also stressed that MacArthur's forces are fatigued from constant pounding and that losses on both sides are heavy.

CORREGIDOR STILL HOLDS

The communique seemed to bear out fears expressed by military experts that the American defense of the Philippines is in danger of collapse because the Japanese seem determined to overwhelm MacArthur's forces no matter what the cost to Japanese in manpower and material.

Heavily armed and defended Corregidor Island, however, is keeping

Australia mobilized her home defenses and hastened the marshalling of her manpower today under the urgency of an invasion menace as Jap forces, landed under big guns of a strong naval squadron, apparently were in control of Rabaul, capital of Australian-mandated New Britain.

War Minister Francis M. Forde announced home defenses were being mustered and the drafting of married men under the age of 35 and unmarried men under 45 was being accelerated.

He previously had announced the landing on New Britain, important link in the chain of outer islands protecting the Australian mainland, following thrusts which gave the Jap footholds on New Guinea to the west and at Kieta, tip of the Solomon islands, to the east.

"Immediate action must be taken to place every unit on a war footing at this time when the safety of the nation is paramount," Forde declared.

"Individual Australians who are prepared for strong action will get it."

PLAN TO DRAFT ALIENS

Regulations were expected Monday requiring aliens and refugees to register for military service and giving them two weeks in which to volunteer before being drafted.

Forde announced the war cabinet would reassemble tomorrow and the war advisory council had been summoned for Monday when it will discuss the advisability of calling parliament. An early session, however, was not expected.

(A London broadcast, heard by NBC, said Australian troops on the island of Bougainville, where Kieta is situated, had "made contact" with the invaders, but gave no hint of the direction the fighting was taking.)

Forde said he had been advised by the commandant at Port Moresby, New Guinea, that 11 Japanese

Dutch Army bombers in a second consecutive smash at Japanese ship concentrations in the Straits of Macassar, capsized a large passenger liner off Balik Papan, East Borneo coastal oil center, and scored direct hits on another large transport and a destroyer, an official announcement said today.

The ships, it was believed, were part of the same concentration the Dutch command yesterday said had been attacked by high level and dive bombers which scored 12 direct hits on eight ships.

Today's communique said two direct hits with 660-pound bombs were scored on the liner and these, supplemented by several near misses, caused the big ship to turn over.

Another 660-pounder scored directly on another large transport, the communique said, while the destroyer was hit with several 100-pound explosives.

The Dutch airmen, who struck from secret air bases deep in the Borneo jungle, said they returned without receiving a scratch to themselves or planes.

The Straits of Macassar, in which these blows were delivered, are the most probable route for a seaborne Japanese attack on the rich Borneo oil district about Balik Papan.

The Dutch have announced however, the Japanese would be wasting their time if they attempt a landing at Balik Papan. All refineries and oil installations already have been destroyed, it was stated two days ago.

The eight ships reported yesterday to have been hit were a large warship—probably a battleship—a heavy cruiser, a light cruiser, a destroyer and four other transports and smaller ships.

The Netherlands Indies command said Japanese aerial activity over Dutch territory had been limited to insignificant raids today at Samarinda, on the east coast of Borneo, and Ternate, a small island near Timor.

SHELL JAPS IN MALAYA

Singapore

Official News

By C. YATES McDANIEL

Australian gunners dragging up field pieces poured a torrent of shells today into Japanese columns attempting to drive south on the main highway to Singapore, smashing numbers of tanks and trucks.

This full-scale battle was pointed north of Yong Peng, about 67 miles above Singapore.

On the British imperial arm's left flank the army went on without decision near Batu Pahat. The RAF was battering at enemy troops and supply trucks 20 miles beyond the Japanese forward posts.

The British Far East command communique announced the British planes bombed and machine-gunned the road south of Labis and "caused damage and casualties" among vehicles and troops.

Labis is on the railroad from Singapore in the central part of the 80-mile front.

All British planes returned safely, it was said.

Japanese tanks and cars were reported destroyed on the western sector.

The communique indicated the fighting in the vicinity of Batu Pahat, 60 miles northwest of Singapore, was particularly fierce at Paloh and north of Yong Peng.

GREAT NEW TANK BATTLE RAGING IN LIBYAN DESERT

Cairo, Jan. 24 (AP)

Official News

Britain's main forces in Libya have engaged the counter-attacking German army and a great new tank battle is raging on a "very large" sector skirting the Gulf of Sirte north of Agedabia, the British reported today.

A brief communique indicated the fighting still was inconclusive, but British sources said Gen. Erwin Rommel apparently had thrown more than half his remaining Axis strength into the embattled triangle with its points at Agedabia, Saunnu, to the east, and Antelat, north east of Agedabia.

British sources said that Lieut.-Gen. Neil Methuen Ritchie's eighth army had heavy strength in that triangle, perhaps lying in wait for just the opportunity that has come.

Rommel, one informant said, has run his tank columns into a battlefield of Ritchie's own choosing, one well supplied and prepared; therefore, the British probably are making a real effort to stop him and erase the force he has pulled off its base at El Agheila.

MONDAY'S AMERICAN

New Move Bars Axis Trade in 3 Americas

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Jan. 24 (AP)—The Americas' split with the Axis was widened today when the resolution recommending severance of diplomatic relations with Germany, Italy and Japan was supplemented by a similar resolution to break off economic relations.

The first was approved last night by the diplomatic committee of the Pan American conference and the second today by the economic committee.

Even before they were brought up for sanction of the conference as a whole, five South American nations were ready to go ahead at once with the break.

Brazil's foreign minister said his country has virtually broken relations now, needing only formal action by his government, and there were unconfirmed reports that Peru already had taken definite action.

WELLES ON RADIO TONIGHT

Sumner Welles, United States Undersecretary of State, made no immediate official statement. It was announced, however, he would summarize the results of the conference in a radio address to the United States at 6:45 p. m. (E. S. T.).

Needing only the formal approval of the full conference, the earlier resolution represents a triumph for Argentina, which balked at two previous resolutions requiring a rupture of relations with the Axis.

The compromise recommends, but does not require, a severance of relations.

As the delegation chiefs approved the toned-down resolution, Foreign Minister Alberto Guani of Uruguay said his country would sever Axis relations, probably today, and authorized sources in the conference said Brazil, Bolivia, Paraguay and Peru would follow suit within a few days.

If they do, it would leave only Argentina, Chile and Ecuador on the diplomatic fence. The remainder of the 21 American nations either are at war with the Axis or have broken off relations.

FOUR PROPOSALS

Welles earlier had told the conference briefly in Spanish that his government wished this latter resolution had been more definite and stronger.

"The ideal of my life always has been American unity," said Welles. "If it had been possible, my government would have liked something more definite and stronger.

"In our concept, the nations which carried war to the United States also carried it to the other Americas. This constitutes danger for all of us. Our hope is that we realize this danger,

NAVY BAGGING U-BOATS, BUT NUMBER IS SECRET

U. S. Official

Washington, Jan. 24 (INS)

Bombs and depth charges from naval vessels and aircraft today are believed to be making Axis submarine crews pay dearly for recent attacks upon merchant vessels in American waters.

This was intimated by a Navy spokesman, who commented in a grimly humorous manner that "the percentage of one-way traffic is increasing" for the enemy undersea boats which attacked at least six merchant ships off the Atlantic coast during the past week.

While the Navy is maintaining official silence about results of counter-measures against U-boats, the spokesman intimated that an undisclosed number of Axis subs have been sunk or damaged by American fleet units.

America's Atlantic fleet units are better prepared and equipped to cope with the underwater raiders now than it was in 1918, when the Kaiser's U-boats sank 100 vessels off the American coast in four months.

The Navy spokesman told the press:

"Some of the recent visitors to our territorial waters will never enjoy the return trip portion of their voyage. Furthermore, the percentage of one-way traffic is increasing, while that of two-way traffic is satisfactorily on the decline."

What the spokesman wanted to put across, however, was the need for secrecy regarding the possible sinking or capture of enemy submarines. The Nazis naturally expect to lose submarines, but presumably it isn't very soothing to the nerves of Axis officials or other sub crew members if they are "kept in the dark" about the fate of their raiders.

In asking Americans not to repeat reports or rumors about submarine sinkings, or to spread the story "even if you have seen a submarine captured or destroyed," the spokesman explained:

"The Nazis think themselves pretty clever in the field of psychological warfare. Secrecy surrounding the fate of their submarines is a counter-blow the American people can give them which may serve to shake some of their super-confidence."

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Jan. 24 (AP)—Torpedoings of two Canada-bound freighters—one British and one Norwegian—were disclosed when rescue vessels landed 70 survivors here.

Names of the ships and places and times of the sinkings were not disclosed, but it was indicated the sinkings were not related.

Forty-two survivors of the British ship were brought here by a Canadian merchantman. They said three of the men in the stokehold were killed when two torpedoes struck the ship. Three other men were injured seriously enough to be taken to a hospital.

The 28 survivors of the Norwegian ship, brought in by a fishing schooner, were the entire crew, as far as was known.

Magnificent Lady

Carole Lombard's Amazing Life Story

By CHARLES T. BURNS

CAROLE LOMBARD IN INDIANAPOLIS
Selling Defense Bonds for Uncle Sam

Carole's devotion to her famous husband was the wonder of Hollywood. Many producers recalled that she turned down a fortune in picture offers last year, stating simply:

"Look, I want to be just plain Mrs. Gable."

She refused to sign for her last picture, "To Be or Not To Be," until Clark's three-months' holiday was ended. And it was only her deep-seated love for America which prompted her acceptance of the role.

Carole said she wanted to help Uncle Sam in his battle with the aggressors by paying taxes. She didn't need the money, Clark made enough, and more, for them to live comfortably.

Despite their devotion for each other, Carole and Clark had to deny rumors of a rift in their country household only last fall. Carole's good nature failed her that time when gossips talked of divorce, and worse still, that she was dead!

"MR. G. HIT THE ROOF"

"The last time we were in Bakersfield some dope broadcast that we were split up and I was on the verge of death," Carole snapped angrily.

"Mr. G. hit the roof on that one and you should have seen what he did to the radio. Whoo! I thought it was funny at the time, but the phone calls from worried friends made me mad."

The "verge of death" forecasts must have been taken very seriously by one Hollywood astrologer. In a detailed prediction of what the stars held for the magnificent lady of the silver screen in 1942, much comment was made about her poor health.

Ironically, the forecast ended:

"Her health, which has not been too robust, should improve after January."

Carole came to her shocking and untimely death, Jan. 17, 1942.

CHILDREN MOURN

One of the many secret acts of kindness performed by the beautiful young actress, who knew so much adversity and trouble during her short but inspiring life, came to light only after she died. It was a tender note from youngsters in the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphan Home.

REDS AND JAPS WILL BATTLE TO END LONG FEUD, CRIPPS ASSERTS

LONDON, Jan. 24 (AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, retiring British ambassador to Moscow, declared today the Russians hope to deliver the final blow to Germany next fall and winter and that the Soviets "intend to make the conquest of Germany absolutely complete and thorough."

HER ANNOYER HELD—Federal agents arrested 17-year-old Oren Williams Haws of Salt Lake City today for sending two threatening letters to Linda Darnell, pretty screen star, in which he demanded $1000 "or else." She is currently appearing in Army camps.

In a lengthy press conference, the former ambassador declared that Joseph Stalin was "10 times as strong" with his people now as he was at the start of the German invasion last year.

In his only reference to Moscow-Tokyo relations, he declared that Russia and Japan had long standing difficulties which could never be satisfied except by force.

The former ambassador, who has just returned after 18 months in Russia, said the Red army now had 9,000,000 men under arms and in the spring would have twice the strength it had at the start of the Russian-German war last June.

Sir Stafford, while praising the Russian successes on the eastern front, warned "against the belief that the German army is routed, as losses on both sides are extremely heavy, and the Germans are fighting to the last man."

He said Russian production in the Urals had been doubled since the German invasion, and that many factories removed piecemeal from the front to the west now were coming into full production again. He expressed the conviction that Russia, with British and American aid, would be able fully to equip the Red army to resist any German attack during the spring and summer.

"The Russians are still sending equipment to China," he said.

He explained that Joseph Stalin was fulfilling the present agreement with the Chinese, but would not likely be able to increase the flow of munitions.

He described Stalin as a "great strategist" and said the Russian leader was personally directing the main strategy along the entire front.

Much of the Russian army's success has been due to the fact that they are giving young generals a chance to show their mettle, Sir Stafford asserted, and are putting the older men in positions of less responsibility.

"Some other countries I know of might well follow this policy of giving youth its chance," he told the press conference, and his hearers burst into laughter.

The former ambassador said the Russian general staff was extremely anxious for the British to clear Libya of the Axis forces because it believed this would be of great aid to the general war effort.

DRASTIC CUT ORDERED IN MANUFACTURE OF RADIOS, PHONOGRAPHS

By DAMON RUNYON, JR.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (INS)—A drastic curtailment in output of radios, phonographs and radio-phonograph combinations was ordered by War Production Director Donald M. Nelson today as the first step toward conversion of the industry to a $2,000,000,000 production program for the Army and Navy.

Acting Priorities Director J. S. Knowlson issued a limitation order which curtailed the average monthly production of the radio manufacturing industry during the next 90 days more than 40 per cent below the monthly output during the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1941.

The order directed manufacturers whose sales og radios and phonographs during the 1941 period totaled more than $1,000,000 to cut production 45 per cent, while those whose sales were under the $1,000,000 mark were ordered to slice their output 35 per cent.

Manufacturers were ordered to make similar reductions in the number of tube sockets in the radio sets they produce, which automatically will reduce the number of tubes in new receivers.

The WPB asserted it could be expected the major radio producing companies would swiftly be converted to full war production for the Army and Navy, in line with Nelson's projected new defense program, as they receive military contracts.

The WPB estimated radio manufacturers in 1940 turned out sets worth a total of $177,000,000 in sales value, and employed 50,000 persons at a payroll cost of $75,000,000. It added that 1941 estimates were much higher.

The WPB declared today's order not only would freeze production facilities for defense work, but would save, during the 90 days 750 tons of copper, 100 tons of aluminum, 25 tons of nickel and 3400 tons of steel.

The order does not affect production for the Army and Navy, Lend-Lease, certain other governmental defense agencies, police departments, contracts with high preference ratings, and "agencies of public authority."

In another order, meanwhile, the board authorized a 34 per cent increase in production of medium and heavy trucks during March over the same month last year, to create a stockpile for "essential" civilian uses. Unlimited production in March of passenger busses seating 15 or more persons and truck trailers of five-ton capacity or more also was authorized.

Manufacturers' quotas for March provide for output of 54,710 medium and heavy trucks, compared with 40,802 in March, 1941.

TOBIN CHARGES AFFIDAVIT SIGNATURES TAMPERED WITH

Far felt legal reverberations were anticipated today as the result of a charge by Mayor Tobin, contained in general denials of corrupt election dealings, that signatures in an affidavit had been tampered with after the document was entered in Suffolk court.

As he answered the ouster petition brought against him, the mayor claimed that two names, those of Edward C. Monahan and Ethel M. Williams, did not appear in the oath part of the affidavit when it was filed but that later someone had altered the records by inserting the signatures.

Accompanied by his denial of all charges was a plea by Mayor Tobin that the ouster proceedings be dropped because of "fraud or collusion" practiced on the court by the petitioners.

At the same time he pleaded that he had been exposed unfairly to public humiliation. Judge Vincent Brogna of superior court held an open trial, he said, without giving him a chance to be represented by counsel, on the original application for permission to file an ouster petition.

TEACHERS GO OVER TOP IN FUND DRIVE

Led by Supt. of Schools Arthur L. Gould, teachers in the Boston public schools are flocking over the top in a fine example of community spirit, it was announced today by William J. Sheehan, chairman of the public employes' division in the Greater Boston United War Fund Campaign to raise $7,600,000.

Ten schools are over the 100 per cent mark, Sheehan announced, with Teachers' College, under the direction of William H. Kennedy, president, "ringing the bell" with 119.7 per cent.

"The schools are pointing the way for us to victory in our effort to reach the tremendous goal set for us," Sheehan said. "If other groups follow their example, public employes will go over the top."

GIFTS MUCH BIGGER

Other schools that have reached the coveted 100 per cent are: Trade School for Girls, Esther L. McNellis, headmaster, 107.7 per cent; Speech Improvement Classes, Theresa A. Dacey, director, 103.9 per cent; Robert Gould Shaw District, James A. Crowley, master, 103.4 per cent; Michael Angelo District, William J. Barry, master, 101.1 per cent; Charlestown High School, John J. Connolly, headmaster, 101.1 per cent; Thomas A. Edison District, George W. Gammon, master, 100.5 per cent; Dillaway District, Angela M. Pearce, master, 100 per cent; Dudley District, Howard Wilbur, master, 100 per cent; Quincy District, Francis A. Duffy, master, 100 per cent.

Early reports on the corporate gifts of leading business firms show, in some instances, increases of from five to 50 times the amounts the same firms contributed last year, according to Joseph P. Spang, Jr., chairman of the Fund's Industrial Division of Industry and Finance.

ALL MUST GIVE MORE

"It certainly looks as though the people of Greater Boston fully realize what a tremendous task we've got to do this year, with the American Red Cross, the local Soldiers and Sailors committee and the USO joining their appeals with that of our own Community Fund," Spang declared in making public some of these figures.

"The fact is that everyone must give, not only more, but a great deal more, this year, if we are to reach the goal and fulfill our war-time obligations."

WIDOW 'CAN'T BELIEVE' MURDER ACQUITTAL

Mrs. Hazel Barber, 46, attractive Brighton widow who admitted shooting Max "Kid" Hessel, former boxer and convict, closed a sad chapter of her life today and hopefully sought in New Hampshire a new existence, exonerated of the charge of murdering her sweetheart.

Less than two hours after a Suffolk superior court jury voted to acquit her, Mrs. Barber was on a train bound for the Concord, N. H. home of her sister, Mrs. Harold Leighton.

Both sisters swooned in the courtroom when they heard Foreman Thomas F. Cooley of Roslindale utter the jury's verdict:

"Not guilty!"

The comely widow, formerly a Brighton nightclub hostess, slumped into the chair back of her, striking her head sharply. Over and over she sobbed the words:

"I don't believe it! I don't believe it!"

In the foremost row of spectators was her devoted sister, Mrs. Leighton. She collapsed to the floor.

Although revived quickly, both women had to be helped from the courtroom. Gone now were the guards, the grim-faced court officials. Weeping with joy, the sisters embraced. Mrs. Barber then consented smilingly to pose for pictures. Her only comment on the verdict was:

"I feel much better."

Today, in her sister's care, she sought rest and recovery from the months of worry since the shooting last May, climaxed by the ordeal of a trial for her life. Her court victory won, she wanted to forget the tragic romance.

Applicants for tires and tubes from today on will find local rationing boards much more cautious in their manner of distribution as a result of a sharp reduction in the quotas allocated for February for each of the State's 351 municipalities.

The quota for passenger automobiles alone, it was pointed out by State Administrator Thomas M. Joyce, is more than 30 per cent less than the January quota, which was far insufficient to meet even urgent requirements.

Joyce warned local rationing boards against permitting applications to accumulate before determining those to be approved, and said that applications should be handled in the order in which they are received, and approved if requirements are met.

Elizabeth Cusick, 17, of West Roxbury, who wandered to New York last fall and was under treatment for amnesia there for months, disappeared again today—but was found a few hours later in Newton.

Soon after her father, Bartholomew Cusick of Walnut st., told police she was missing, a Newton patrolman saw her walking aimlessly along a deserted street. He identified her from papers in her handbag.

A former honor student in Roslindale High School, the girl went to New York Oct. 23, her whereabouts being unknown to her parents until Dec. 5.

Her father went to New York to bring her home, but after accompanying him to Grand Central station, the girl refused to go farther and she was returned to Bellevue Hospital.

Her brother, James, 19, a sailor in the Navy, finally persuaded her to come home with him a few days later.

the enemy from pouring troops into Manila bay, but the invaders are sweeping through Subic bay and making landings on the west coast of the Batan peninsula in an effort to crush the defenders from all sides.

War authorities here described the position of Philippine defense units as extremely precarious.

Provided Jap Gen. Masaharu Homma, chief of the Philippine invasion, chooses to pay even a heavier price for his attack, it is only a question of time, military observers said, before the outnumbered, battle-scarred men of MacArthur are forced out of the path of the aggressors.

Continuation of the relentless attack was accepted by tacticians as proof that the Japs have set out to wipe out the last organized land resistance on Luzon.

BASE FOR INDIES ATTACK

They obviously feel the Manila bay region is necessary for their operations against the Netherlands Indies and Singapore. If MacArthur's forces are shattered, the bay, with the great port of Manila and what is left of Cavite naval base, will have only Corregidor fortress as a bastion of American resistance.

Gen. Homma has more to occupy him than opposition on the field of battle, observers concluded from a War Department communique describing drastic penalties inflicted upon civilians in the Jap-occupied areas of the islands.

The War Department was advised by Gen. MacArthur that Homma has decreed death for persons military governors believe guilty of any of 17 infractions of Japanese martial law. The so-called violations range from rumor spreading to outright rebellion.

Washington authorities assumed from these actions that the Japs had encountered staunch resistance from the victimized island.

act accordingly, and thus I vote in favor of the proposals"

The four proposals in the resolution were:

1—The American republics consider any aggression by an extra-continental state against one of them as aggression against all.

2—The American representatives reaffirm their complete solidarity.

3—The American republics recommend rupture of diplomatic relations with Japan, Germany and Italy "inasmuch as the first of these states attacked and the other two declared war on an American country."

4—The American republics will consult among themselves before reestablishing relations with the Axis.

The original resolution would have required a 100 per cent, outright break with the Axis.

Argentina and Chile immediately showed reluctance to accept that stand and hours-long conferences among the chief delegates followed.

Dr. Enrique Ruiz Guinazu, Argentine foreign minister and delegation head, told the committee that the compromise formula "consecrated the right of each country to evaluate its own opinions," but that the "unity of the Americas is a fact."

A slap at Argentina and Chile came from Foreign Minister Ezequiel Padilla of Mexico in his speech approving the compromise.

Meanwhile, the Soviet government appealed to the Baltic people to rise against Hitler's invaders.

The latest Russian successes were pictured by authorities as representing an advance of 65 miles over a 70-mile front, the biggest single advance yet registered during the current offensive.

Rzhev was declared to be completely encircled, while Soviet troops astride the Moscow-Riga Railroad were said to have reached a line parallel with Smolensk, which thus is threatened gravely from the north.

At some points, it was stated, the Russians are nearly within 100 miles of the Latvian border.

MRS. F.D. URGES NYA AID IN COLLEGES BE CONTINUED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—Mrs. Roosevelt wants the General Federation of Women's Clubs to interest more women's groups in retention of National Youth Administration aid for college youth.

As assistant civilian defense director, the President's wife presided last night at the National Defense Forum, sponsored by the federation.

Mrs. Roosevelt said she favored cutting out NYA aid to high school students, but would consider it very serious if aid to college students were stopped.

"This would mean," she told women assembled from all parts of the United States, "that only youngsters whose families have money could go to college."

She said the records of college students helped by the NYA showed they stood usually among the top 5 per cent.

Mrs. Roosevelt was asked how the $100,000,000 recently approved by Congress for OCD would be used, and she replied the office had asked for it to help cities get fire equipment. Brig.-Gen. L. D. Gasser of OCD said it also would be used to manufacture from five to six million gas masks.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—The text of the Army communique, No. 72, based on reports received up to 9:30 a. m. (E. S. T.), follows:

"1—Philippine theater: Fresh Japanese troops are continuing heavy attacks on Gen. MacArthur's troops in Batan peninsula. These attacks are particularly heavy on the left flank and are supported by the fire of hostile naval vessels and by aircraft.

"The enemy succeeded in taking a number of positions on the west coast. Fierce counterattacks by our troops expelled the Japanese from some of these points, but others remain in possession of the enemy. Heavy losses were suffered on both sides.

"The enemy continues to land new troops in Subic bay and on the west coast of the Batan peninsula, greatly increasing the numerical superiority of the invaders.

"Though fatigued from constant fighting, American and Philippine troops continue their stubborn resistance, contesting savagely every advance made by the enemy. Their enthusiasm, courage and devotion are undiminished.

CHINESE SEE U. S. LEADING ALLIED INVASION OF TOKYO

CHUNGKING, Jan. 24 (AP)—China's army mouthpiece, Saotangpao, which a few days ago was bewailing Allied reverses in Malaya and the Philippines, optimistically voiced the opinion today that the United Nations were pursuing a "magnetic warfare" which would draw the Japanese far from home and clear the way for a landing in Tokyo bay.

"Under sound and well-planned strategy and efficient command, the Allies soon will strike back and gain such victories as a landing in Tokyo bay—not an idle fancy but an accurate prophecy to be brilliantly fulfilled," said Saotangpao.

The government newspaper Takungao made a similar prophecy.

"Anglo-American naval and air forces, with America playing the principal role, should take the northern Pacific route and strike Japan proper . . . the Chinese are not a bit pessimistic of the future . . . we are sure Japan will go down in defeat," said the newspaper.

The Central Daily News also urged that the United Nations pay adequate attention to Hitler, urging that they give every possible aid to Russia so Germany would not be able to start a spring offensive.

LINER ESCAPES 2 TORPEDOES, CRASH OFF U. S.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP)—The Grace liner Santa Paula, which arrived here, was twice attacked by submarines off the West African coast and narrowly escaped collision with unidentified craft as she neared her home shores, it was announced by the Third Naval District.

The Navy said that eight crewmen and four passengers, all suffering from malaria, were removed for hospitalization.

Two days off the port of Lagos, on the West African Coast, the Navy announcement said, a submarine suddenly appeared off the Santa Paula's port bow and fired a torpedo which missed the 9135-ton vessel by not more than 20 feet.

As the torpedo was fired, the Navy said, the Santa Paula's helmsman threw his wheel hard to turn the ship. So violent was the vessel's change of direction, said the Navy, that many of the 68 passengers were thrown from their deck chairs and chairs in the dining room.

The same submarine was seen, later, off the Santa Paula's stern, the Navy was informed by passengers and crewmen, and six hours later a second torpedo crossed her bow—fired by an unseen submarine.

She had been on a special voyage to West Africa—a trip which started before the United States was at war.

New Super Profits Tax Now Suggested

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—Congressmen are considering a special tax on industry to drain off most war production profits.

Sen. George (D.) of Georgia, chairman of the Senate finance committtee, today advocated a "super" levy on war profits, over and above any taxes now imposed or might be voted on excess profits in general.

Sen. Taft (R.) of Ohio, another committee members, suggests a separate tax on earnings from government contracts instead of various proposals for statutory limitation of such profits.

"I think such a tax would work much better than a profit limitation such as Congress formerly imposed on ship and airplane builders and later repealed," Taft told reporters. "There have been complaints that such limitations slowed up production. I say, let industry make the profits, but take back all of them, above a certain low percentage, in special taxation."

George sought Senate consideration today of a House-approved measure which would excuse government contractors from obtaining certain certificates before they could take advantage of speedy amortization provisions of present tax laws.

Senate leaders arranged yesterday for the Chamber to meet at 11 a. m. today before they learned that the House would not act until Monday on the compromise version of the Administration's price control bill.

Judging from a controversy over the inclusion of a $30,000,000 Douglas dam in Tennessee, leaders said, speedy action on the price measure was not likely.

LOMBARD'S PLANE SIX MILES OFF COURSE AT TIME OF CRASH

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 24 (AP)—From new witnesses Civil Aeronautics Authority officials sought today the answer the first day's hearing could not give—

What caused a TWA airliner to crash against a Nevada mountain Jan. 16, killing Actress Carole Lombard, 15 Army fliers and six other persons?

"There was not the slightest evidence, the remotest possibility of sabotage," asserted John A. Collings, operations superintendent of Transcontinental and Western Air.

Waldon G. Gollen, TWA chief pilot, said Capt. Wayne C. Williams, 41, pilot of the craft, was a ten-year veteran with the airline and had flown the same route at night last Dec. 21. He added that Williams was "6.7 miles off the course assigned to him" Jan. 16.

Radio signals would have indicated the ship was distinctly off course if Williams was flying by the radio beam, said Gollen.

The plane's gross weight loaded was 25,182 pounds, 18 pounds under the maximum allowed by CAA.

Other witnesses said flying conditions were perfect, engines and instruments had been checked at Las Vegas, the crew was experienced and competent, and the equipment was new.

CAROLE ANGRY OVER STORY OF SEPARATION

of war by England and France in 1939. She worked with unstinting fervor for relief funds for suffering war victims.

ASSIGNED BY CLARK

Her earnest, sincere desire to help her native land brought redoubled efforts when America equared off against the Axis powers in December. Tirelessly, she traveled from city to city selling defense bonds; she gave of her talents at shows in Army and Navy cantonments; her money flowed freely into every charity benefiting the armed services.

Clark Gable was chairman of the committee assigning motion picture stars to benefit programs throughout the country and, by supreme bitter irony, it was he who asked Carole to go to Indianapolis to help in sale of defense bonds.

Carole, apprehensive at long separations from Gable, suggested he go along with her but his defense duties took all his spare time and he was forced to decline.

It was only the second long separation the two had since their marriage in 1939.

GAMBLED UNTO DEATH

For a girl who lived so recklessly, so gaily, and so glamorously, it seems not at all unusual that she should meet death against a mountain named:

"Double or Nothing."

That could be said to be Carole's guiding motto. She gambled with plastic surgeons, "double or nothing" when the auto crash disfigured her . . . she gambled her future when she quit slapstick to take a fling at dramatic roles . . . she gambled with Fate in her search for happiness by divorcing William Powell . . .

And, the final gamble . . . she flipped a coin to decide whether it would be a train or plane back to Hollywood.

Here's How to Have Fun On Your Valentine Party

"Hearts and Keys" Gaily Pairs Off Guests

NO "lovelorn" guests at this Valentine party! Bashful or bold, every man has the key to a fair maiden's heart.

The name of this clever way to pair off your guests for the evening is "Hearts and Keys." Just cut out red hearts, label each one with a girl's name and make keys out of gilded cardboard.

Then, with red ribbon, fasten each heart to a key and put them all in a dressed-up box, with keys dangling through a hole in the top. When each man tugs on a key, out comes the heart of his "sweetheart" of the evening.

What next? A Valentine-making contest!

The outcome of all this romance of course should be revealed in a Valentine fortune game. So have on hand a stack of red paper hearts and label each with a prophecy: "You'll lose your head to a blonde smoothie," "A trip to the altar this year," and so on. Everybody draws one, with lots of excitement.

You'll find at least 14 gay romantic games and many more, fun for all types of parties, in our 40-page booklet, "Games for Good Parties." Includes fortunes, pencil and paper games, team games, hilarious tricks, stunts, ice-breakers.

Send 15 cents (plus one cent to cover cost of mailing) for our booklet, "Games for Good Parties," to Boston Evening American Home Institute, 100 West 19th st., New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Have $75 Honeymoon

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

HOW GLAD I AM that romance still survives, as proved to me in this letter written by a young man about to be married:

"DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

"Would you be interested in hearing what a mere man has to say about honeymoons? I'm contemplating enjoying one in about two months, if nothing interferes. My future 'missus' agrees with me and we're going to make it something never to be forgotten.

"Someone has suggested doing away with honeymoons. Isn't the world sufficiently dreary, with wars going on, loss of ideals, and visible signs of human suffering on every side, without trying to snatch from us the few perfect days that come from having one's beloved to one's self?

"To bring about a successful and lasting marriage, newlyweds must have a little time off to become acquainted, in this most precious of relationships. We are going to take our two weeks off together, the 'missus' and I. We're going in a second-hand car which I use in my business, and for a few dollars a week we've rented a furnished shack away from everybody. We're going to get our own meals, and we expect this little glimpse of Heaven to cost only $75.00 or less.

'Snuffy Smith' Film at Bijou

Hot off the comic sections of the Sunday Advertiser and Evening American is "Snuffy Smith, Yard Bird," the new film on the Bijou screen.

The distinguished actress, Sarah Padden, is in it, together with Bud Duncan and Edgar Kennedy.

Snuffy, the pint-sized uniformed character made famous by Billy De Beck, is portrayed by Bud Duncan, veteran comedian. It's bad enough when Snuffy, engaged in the stealthy manufacture of snakebite remedy, is constantly harassed by revenue agents bent on putting him out of business. But it's even worse when he gets a job as general servant in a military camp and learns that the former head man of the revenuers is now the top sergeant of the regiment.

Hilarious comedy is the keynote of the co-feature, "Let's Go Collegiate," which features Frankie Darro as the young coxswain of a college rowing crew, and Gale Storm, pretty songstress.

CONNEE BOSWELL'S HEART-WARMING SONGS DELIGHT RKO-BOSTON AUDIENCES

Glen Gray and Band Share Bill

By PEGGY DOYLE

Charming Connee Boswell, formerly one-third of the popular Boswell Sisters of singing fame, and a national favorite as a consequence of countless recordings, stilled an unusually boisterous RKO Boston audience into rapt attention at yesterday's opening-show.

Lovely to look at, Miss Boswell has a warm, vibrant voice that happily adjusts itself to either sweet or swing rhythms. Her most enthusiastically received numbers—"I Got It Bad and That Ain't Good" and "White Cliffs of Dover"—tied for favor with the pew-holders.

She opened with "Rose O'Day," and then swung into the recently recorded "Gee, But I Hate to Go Home Alone." "Sweethearts or Strangers?" and "Blues in the Night" were her other two vocal offerings and entirely welcome they were to attentively tipped ears.

Glen Gray and his smooth-as-silk Casa Loma orchestra co-star with Miss Boswell on the current RKO-Boston stage bill. Sneaking into the audience's good graces even before the curtain lifted with "Pagan Love Song," they offered "Concerto" before the outfit's likable featured male singer, Pee Wee, was put on the spot to give out with the inevitable "Chattanooga Choo Choo."

"Totem Pole" and "Darktown Strutters' Ball" were Pee Wee's other well-received solo contributions.

Programed as the "Three Gentlemenaces," Sid Tomack and the Reis Brothers, twitting the customers into high good humor, made a definite hit with their crisp nonsense and their "Sonny Boy" gag.

Pretty, little Sunny Rice did a tap-dance with some attention—getting original variations that indicate we'll be seeing her in a Broadway musical before long Kenny Sargent, band vocalist with a plushy, deep voice and a winning personality, can sing "I'll Never Forget" and "Everything I Love" any time for an RKO-Boston audience.

The band closes this smart, skilled and varied stage show with "Chant of the Jungle," which strikes the right note.

"Call Out the Marines," teaming again those memorable "What Price Glory" soldier-boys, Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe, is the screen feature, a service life comedy well-larded with laughs.

2 Top-Flight Films On Olympia Screen

"Unholy Partners," with Edward G. Robinson, Edward Arnold and Laraine Day, and "One Foot In Heaven," co-starring Fredric March and Martha Scott, are the Washington Street Olympia screen features through Monday.

'My Sister Eileen' Stays on at Wilbur

"My Sister Eileen," the Wilbur's enormously successful comedy, continues its merry way with Betty Furness and her honey-pot of a stage sister, Dorothy Littlejohn, enchanting all comers.

Boston to Hear Horowitz Play

The tentative program which Vladimir Horowitz, celebrated Russian pianist, will present at his only Boston performance this season at Symphony Hall on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 1, is:

"The Star Spangled Banner,' Key; Four Sonatas, Scarlatti; Polonaise-Fantasie, two Mazurkas, Scherzo, B minor, Chopin; Sonata No. 6, Op. 62, Prokofieff; Sonetto del Petrarca, No. 104, Liszt; Saint-Saens' "Danse Macabre," Liszt (first performance in new revision by Horowitz).

Beauty

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL—And now that you're in uniform, it's recommended that you don't stop being feminine, but wear a make-up, hair style and perfume that conform with the clean, crisp quality of the uniforms approved by the Office of Civilian Defense. Today Arline Gould suggests a marvelous fragrance that is clean and sweet, not sophisticated yet not too flowery . . . and the model holds a flacon of perfumed cologne to show the stunning . . . and appropriate . . . packaging.

GIRLS IN WAR WORK HERE FIND MAKEUP AN UPLIFT

By ARLINE GOULD

WHEN WAR struck its first blows at Britain, the girls who hastened into defense work were faced with some pretty nonsensical rules about "no nail polish, or lipstick, very little powder, and hair efficiently out of the way," and it didn't take long to modify most and break some of them completely!

There's no such wrangle going on here . . . the example of morale-lifting that a decent amount of make-up gave a gal was quite enough for the authorities. And there's no danger that the girls here will be asked to give up that great American habit of a perfumed cologne splash after a bath . . . and the dabs of perfume that are such an agreeable finish to any get-up.

"Any get-up" means a uniform, too . . . and it's thoroughly exciting to discover how absolutely wonderful a fragrance, which is so fresh and starchy that it was named after a popular, crisp cotton fabric, is with any variety of uniform!

Whether you're getting yourself rigged out to be an efficient Air Raid Warden or a nutrition-wise Canteen Worker, you'll hang onto all the feminine touches you can that are consistent with good taste.

The sirenish eye make-up is tabu . . . though eye make-up done well is by no means out!

Long mops of hair that need combing every 15 minutes to look their best are certainly out of place. Now you'll discover how stunning that longish hair can be if it's "put up" in some clever way entirely unrelated to the buns and nobs that you dimly remember as sticking out on the heads of your aunts and other grown-ups.

You'll probably adopt this particular fragrance for your daytime hours . . . it has such a clean, crisp quality . . . without sophistication . . . yet not a sweet, simple and girlish flower scent.

To learn about this fragrance, phone Arline Gould, LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NEWS FOR MODERN WOMEN

• FOOD •

By Martha Lee

COOKIES ARE A GREAT convenience when they are kept on hand at all times—this is one truth our grandmothers knew and depended upon. If you have cookies in the jar, you have something to accompany a fruit dessert as well as a sweet to serve with tea or fruit juice if guests drop in of an afternoon.

Be sure to have a great number of cooky recipes in your file so you can please your family and friends with the variety of cookies you serve them. Here is a grand new recipe made with crispy rice flakes cereal.

DROP COOKIES

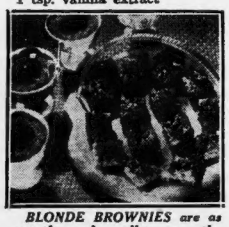
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 tsp. baking soda
¾ cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1½ cups rice flakes
1 cup raisins
1 cup chopped nuts
4 tbsp. milk

Sift together the flour and soda. Cream the butter; add sugar gradually, creaming well. Add eggs, one at a time, and beat until fluffy after each addition. Add rice flakes, raisins and chopped nuts. Add sifted dry ingredients then stir in the milk to blend well. Drop by teaspoons on a slightly greased cooky sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 15 minutes. Makes five dozen cookies.

As smooth and mellow as the creamiest fudge that ever melted in your mouth is this version of the popular brownie. The secret of its golden color lies in the omission of chocolate from the cooky batter. Instead, the chocolate is chipped and sprinkled over the batter before the brownies go into the oven. There the heat of the oven melts the chocolate to glistening smoothness.

BLONDE BROWNIES

3 eggs
2½ cups brown sugar
1 tsp. vanilla extract



BLONDE BROWNIES are as smooth and mellow as the creamiest fudge.

1½ cups sifted flour
½ tsp. salt
1 cup chopped nuts
3 ounces chipped semi-sweet chocolate

Beat eggs well. Add sugar gradually, beating until well mixed. Add vanilla. Sift flour and salt together and stir into egg mixture. Add nuts. Pour into well-greased 9x12-inch pan. Sprinkle the chopped chocolate over the batter. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 25 minutes. Makes about four dozen squares 1½x1½ inches.

SCHOOL DAY COOKIES

2-3 cup shortening
¾ tsp. salt
½ tsp. cloves
½ tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. soda
1½ cups brown sugar, firmly packed
2 eggs, well beaten
3½ cups sifted flour
¼ cup milk
½ cups figs, finely cut
½ cups raisins, finely cut

Combine shortening, salt, spices and soda and blend. Add sugar gradually and cream well. Add beaten eggs and mix well. Add ¼ of flour, then milk, then remaining flour and chopped fruit, mixing well after each addition. Drop from tip of teaspoon on greased baking sheets. (So much easier than having to roll and cut out.) Sprinkle with sugar. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 10 to 15 minutes. Makes four dozen.

CRISP PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES

1 cup butter
1 cup white sugar
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup peanut butter
½ cup milk, sweet or sour
2 tsp. soda
1 tsp. vanilla
½ tsp. salt
3½ cups sifted all-purpose flour

Cream butter, add sugar, and cream well. Add peanut butter and blend thoroughly, then add milk in which the soda has been stirred. Add vanilla and salt, then add flour. Chill and roll to ⅛ inch in thickness. Cut, place on a greased baking pan and bake in a moderate oven (375 deg. F.) for 15 to 20 minutes.

The Correct Thing

By Elinor Ames

YOU MAY ASK a waiter the base of a drink, but don't ask for the recipe of a house specialty. That's the bartender's secret.

Fashion

CROCHET A VERITABLE MASTERPIECE of an afghan . . . one that you'll never toss in back of the sofa when company walks in, and one that will probably never become padding for the newest puppy's bed. It's called the "cameo," crocheted in afghan stitch in octagonal pieces. Each piece is embroidered with a rose design in a cross stitch pattern. And they say it's the sort that is finished "before you know it," because of the separate pieces. The original is made in tan with shades of green and rust. Us, we'd like it in white with magenta borders and VERY pink roses. For your set of crochet directions, write Annice Brink, Fashion Editor, Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FITTED JACKET IS DENIED TO SOME, BOX JACKET FOR ALL

By BETTINA BEDWELL

NOT all the women of this country can wear the tailored suit with a fitted jacket, but all women can wear a suit, and suits this spring are going to look so "right" you'll all want to wear one. For the ladies who worry about the lebensaum of their hiplines, the suit with a box jacket takes care of all their troubles. And this kind of suit is very definitely part of the spring picture. For women who feel too severe in really tailored clothes there are legions of soft dressmaker suits. There are kinds for all tastes.

I have chosen a box jacket suit for our sketch today. It is made of a soft cashmere wool in a pale sandy beige color, and the jacket, which reaches just below the hips, buttons up the center front, so it may be worn open. The slim skirt has kick pleats at the front for action, but not for flare.

With this suit Braagard's postillon hat of pastel blue felt trimmed with narrow black velvet ribbon and a black veil is a perfect headline.

Labor in Civilian Defense Parley

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

National Woman Director of Civilian Defense

WASHINGTON, FRIDAY—Yesterday afternooon, Dr. Paul R. Jacobsen, the director of the Colgate University study group, brought his ten honor juniors to tea with me, since their period of study here is ending. This year's program has been revised to give attention simultaneously to public administration and political control, especially as related to national defense.

I always enjoy this group. They come, of course, largely from the northeastern states, but I imagine their backgrounds are as varied as those of any other group of young people. As I looked at their faces yesterday, I realized that, in all probability, their interests were as varied.

They all had had a stimulating experience here and that is what we want all young people to have in the capital of their country; it should be a stirring place.

We had another thrilling newsreel last night for some guests. I can recommend the movie, "The Corsican Brothers," if you want to forget what is going on around you for a little while. Everyone listened and watched breathlessly until the very end.

THE OFFICE of Civilian Defense has called a small labor conference today, through its labor advisory committee. The conference consists of ten representatives from the American Federation of Labor, the Congress of Industrial Organizations and the Railroad Brotherhoods. I found our session this morning extremely interesting and very stimulating.

It was valuable in that it gave to all the officials and staff of the Office of Civilian Defense suggestions of what might be accomplished, and information on conditions which exist in the field of labor participation in civilian defense.

I hope that, out of this, may come a great deal more knowledge of the standards of living and actual conditions which arise as a result of changes brought about by defense needs.

ON THIS LEVEL, I think we need to attempt to collect the knowledge which exists in the field of management, as represented by war production, and the labor interests in the government and industry. By joint action, we may be able to forestall situations which are now causing great hardship.

I could not help thinking, as we all met in the state dining room at the White House, that Lincoln's portrait, looking down upon us, was a good symbol of the unity which will exist, not only in the ranks of labor itself, but in the ranks of employer and employe.

If unity is important for a nation, we must realize that it can not really exist unless we can bring about unity between the groups which make up that nation.

Smart Set Functions

By BETTY ALDEN

ROMANCE CONTINUES to keep pace with patriotism and today we have first exclusive news of another important society wedding which has been planned to coincide with the prospective bridegroom's military schedule . . .

It's the wedding of post debutante Betty Neilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander S. Neilson of Chestnut Hill . . . Betty has chosen Feb. 7 as the date for her marriage to Ensign Albert Frederick Gallatin, U. S. N. R., who will soon complete his courses at the Naval Training School of Diesel Engineering at Cornell . . .

The 3 o'clock ceremony will be held at Leslie Lindsey Memorial Chapel, with a reception at the home of the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Templeman Coolidge of 105 Beacon st. . . .

Betty will be attended by her sister, Gail Neilson, as maid of honor, and the bridegroom's brother, James Gallatin of New York, will be best man . . . Owing to wartime conditions the festivities will be marked with utmost simplicity . . . and like so many other present day bridal couples Betty and her fiance have no definite plans for their future home . . .

The prospective bride graduated from Beaver Country Day and belongs to the Junior League and Vincent Club . . . Her paternal grandparents are Mrs. Louis Neilson and the late Mr. Neilson of New York . . . She made her debut at a ball in the autumn of 1939, at which she shared honors with Louise Sargent and Joan Perkins . . .

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gallatin of New York, Ensign Gallatin is descended from a long line of distinguished New Yorkers . . . His great-great grandfather, . . .

o o o

IT'S LOOKING too far ahead for the newly engaged Donna Smith of Boston and John Holabird, Jr., of Chicago, to make any definite plans for their wedding . . . although they hope to be married sometime between John's graduation from Harvard this year and his entry into military service . . .

In the meantime the prospective bride is having an exciting time showing off her engagement ring, which is a beautiful solitaire in a quaint old fashioned setting, and an heirloom in John's family . . . Donna is the daughter of Mrs. Donald Gould Smith of Beacon st., and the late Mr. Smith of Brockton and Portland, Me. . . . She is a student at Erskine School . . . John's parents are the J. A. Holabirds of the Windy City . . .

RUSSIAN WAR RELIEF headquarters on Newbury st., which have been colorfully decorated by Corlene Murphy Samiloff, are a busy hive of war work and money raising activities—especially on Tuesdays when a popular series of afternoon teas are held . . .

Mrs. John Wells Farley, one of Boston's most active workers for Allied War Relief projects, will be a hostess at next Tuesday's tea, together with Mrs. Andrew J. Peters who is an active member of the executive committee of Russian War Relief

Miss Helen Margaret West, daughter of Dr. James E. West, Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America, in beautiful bridal gown she is wearing at her marriage this afternoon to Sergeant Adrian Van Sinderen, Jr., whose parents are well known in local horse show circles. The ceremony is at New Rochelle, N. Y. Sgt. Van Sinderen is with Troop A, 101st Cavalry, Fort Devens.

VICTORY'S ROAD

By Elsie Robinson

"I'd like," you say,
"To make a record.
It sure must be swell
To be a Big Shot—
Or even near
The head of the line—
But what chance have I?"

"Yes," says you,
"I know the answer"—
You're going to say,
"YOU CAN BE ANYTHING
YOU WANT—WITHIN REASON."
It's a good answer—
I've seen it tried
And it worked—
But there's one thing
You're overlooking.

There's one catch
In that scheme;
One fact that's apt
To put the whole racket
Haywire—
You CAN be what you want.
But suppose
You DON'T WANT—
Suppose you hit
One of those dead-calm times
When, for the life of you,
You can't WANT anything.
Then what?

"It's one thing," says you,
"To like or envy
Noble, hard-working eggs
And wish, vaguely,
You were like 'em—
But it's quite another
To get so steamed up
With red-hot desire
And go-get-'em ambition

Here's what I
Say to you.
"The trouble with you,
Partner,
Is that you think
You've gotta be
Red hot
To do anything.
That's nonsense—
That's the way
Monkeys feel
About doing things—
Won't work unless
They're excited.
The minute
Things go dull
They lose interest

There's the difference
Between a man
And a monkey—

You CAN
Be what you want—
Even if you've
Stopped wanting!
Even if
You're too tired,
Too sick and discouraged,
Too sore and disgusted
To feel anything
Or desire anything,
You can still
Be what you want—
IF YOU'LL GO AHEAD

Prunes are an excellent source of vitamin A, a good source of vitamin B, and a better than good source of vitamin G. They're rich also in the valuable minerals, and rank high among the fruits for abundance of iron and value in red cell restoration.

Birthday Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Saturday, Jan. 24, 1942

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY—you have a pleasant disposition. Inclined to be easily influenced yet sometimes stubborn when rightly advised or given due orders. Should learn to be more decisive in action—you have fine intuition to help you. And be choosey selecting friends and associates. Capable of great achievement when true to your better nature. You need more steady ambition. Don't let enemies of thought and constructive effort interfere with your productivity.

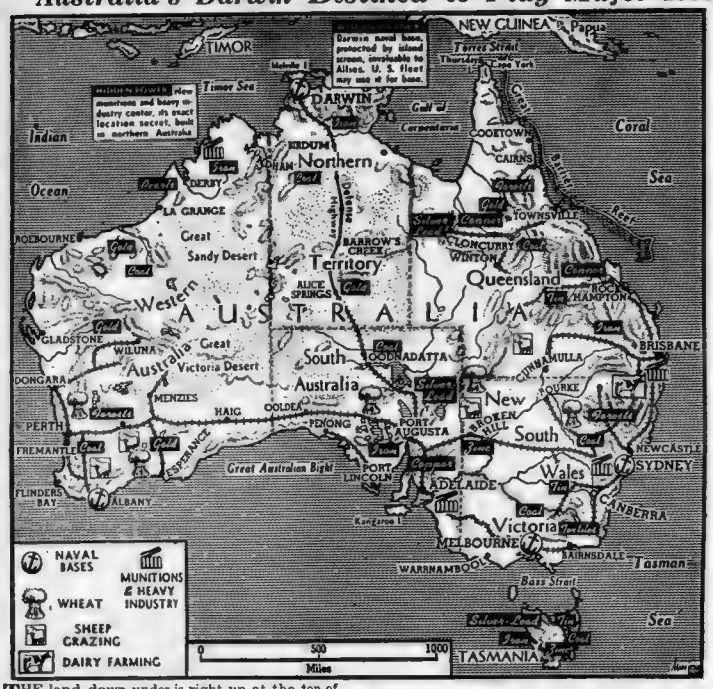
THE LAND DOWN UNDER COMES TO TOP

Australia's Darwin Destined to Play Major Role in Far East If Singapore Falls



THE land down under is right up at the top of strategists' calculations these days.

tralia offers the Allied navies a pro- iandy and so far, unthreatened base of is at Darwin on the north coast. It's d right now, protecting the new U. S. supply via Torres straits.

Darwin is close to the Japanese bases at Saigon, Camranh bay and Formosa. It's going to be the big fleet base if Singapore falls, and will do much to cushion possible loss of that outpost.

It's a most important strategic base, and backed up by the industry of the island continent, Allied fleets and troops can work at the business of winning the war, certain of supplies and munitions close at hand.

IF AND when U. S. troops and sailors get to Darwin, they'll find it literally a hot spot. It has 100-degree temperature for 60 days in a row in summer, which is now. It never gets very cool, lying close to the equator.

Australia is contributing to the Allied war effort, all out of proportion to her slim population. The Aussies are acclaimed as among the world's top fighters.

In the last war the country contributed heavily of provisions and foodstuffs to the war supplies. Now they've got a burgeoning industry busy turning out ships, planes, munitions. Things are humming down under.

THEY'VE got the metals to do it. Whole mountains of iron ore stick up close to vast beds of coal for power and coke. They've built great steel plants on the southeast and northwest coasts. Some of their coal veins appear inexhaustible. One is 785 feet thick. There's iron ore for decades in sight, easy to mine with steam shovels.

Australia produces not inconsiderable tin supplies. Bauxite for aluminum is in heavy deposits and there are great copper mines. She's got the stuff for making war goods.

That Australia produces a fifth of the world's wool and is a heavy exporter of mutton, wheat and dairy goods is well known. She also has important silver-lead, zinc and gold production.

SOME of the more intangible things are important, too. For one, the Australians consider themselves much like Americans. U. S. sailors visiting the great southern continent just before the Pacific war broke out were virtually drowned in welcome, and the prime minister declared only recently that Australia was orienting her war policy with that of the United States.

LIVING COSTS CLIMB IN FACE OF PRICE LAW

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—A continuous but gradual rise in the cost of living was forecast by congressional leaders today despite the fact Congress Monday may finally pass the most far-reaching price control measure in the nation's history.

Broad authority is given to a one-man administrator, to be set up by the compromise bill worked out in a Senate-House conference, but his authority to control agricultural prices is limited, and there is no provision for the control of wages.

Under the farm price amendments, the administrator cannot interfere until agricultural prices reach 110 per cent of parity, or the average 1919-1929 price level, whichever is higher.

Sen. Brown (D.) of Michigan, conference chairman, estimated that prices could rise 10 to 20 per cent under the provision.

Sen. Bankhead (D.) of Alabama, also a conferee, declared runaway farm prices are highly improbable.

"We can't have runaway prices if the price administrator will stop high prices after food leaves the hands of the farmer," said Bankhead. "The general level of farm prices is only 99 per cent of parity.

"There is no reason to complain of cost of living so far as the farmer is concerned. Railway wages were raised $400,000,000, annually without any general complaint."

Sen. Taft (R.) of Ohio said if the price administration holds price increases to about 10 per cent a year during the war, the legislation will have been a success.

A group of House Republicans planned a fight to recommit the conference agreement Monday.

Rep. Gifford (R.) of Massachusetts, another conferee, said he would oppose the conference report but added:

"I don't think we can beat it."

Sugar Ration Books Printed; Run Still On

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—Continued heavy "runs" on sugar supplies will compel the government to begin rationing the commodity within a month or sooner, Office of Price Administration sources said today.

Designs for rationing books have been drawn and the books are being printed, it was learned. Details of the rationing machinery are nearly perfected.

Large industrial sugar consumers have been limited to the same supplies of sugar they received in comparable months of 1940, and restrictions have been felt for weeks at retail outlets.

Many grocery stores have placed arbitrary limits on the amount sold each customer and, in places where the "run" has been particularly heavy, some consumers have been unable to buy sugar in any quantities.

FLIER TO TRAIN WOMEN HERE FOR BRITAIN

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP)—Jacqueline Cochran, outstanding woman flier, has announced that she will recruit and help train licensed women pilots in the United States for ferry service in England with the approval of the British and American governments.

Jacqueline Cochran

Those qualified among the 3258 licensed women fliers in this country will be taken to Britain as part of the air transport auxiliary, she said in an interview. She declared the women selected would be paid $4000 a year, including $25 weekly to be placed in American banks.

The first unit of 25 fliers would receive training in Montreal before going to England, she said. She estimated that 500 American women pilots would be qualified for the work, with the initial group beginning training in three or four weeks.

In Britain, Miss Cochran said, the women in the air ferry service would be under the jurisdiction of the Royal Air Force Ferry Command. Their salaries will be paid by the British government.

Last Monday Miss Cochran conferred with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant director of the office of civilian defense, and said she was assured of the approval of the OCD.

The project also had been endorsed by the Civil Aeronautics Authority and the Army Air Corps, she said.

7 P. M. Curfew for All Gas Stations Proposed

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24 (AP)—A 7 p. m. curfew for all gasoline stations throughout the nation may be asked by the eastern seaboard gasoline dealers as a wartime defense measure to increase industrial man power, a spokesman said today.

The request may be forwarded to the government during the dealers' meeting here Tuesday.

DIAMOND JIM SAYS:

Business men and women are investing in Diamonds. They found that in the years of depression the deflation in Diamonds as compared with securities and real estate was relatively small. Diamonds are a sound investment and a bulwark against impending inflation. Take my tip, folks, get your Diamonds late Diamonds! For better Diamond buys, better buy from WASHINGTON JEWELRY COMPANY, New England's Great Diamond House.

CIO PONDERS F. D., LEWIS PEACE PLANS

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (INS)—The CIO executive council went into closed session today to choose between President Roosevelt's labor peace formula and the proposal of its founder and former head, John L. Lewis, that conferences be resumed to unify labor's ranks.

Lewis declined CIO President Philip Murray's invitation to appear personally before the executive council of 56 members and outline his methods of settling the split in the ranks of labor.

Thomas L. Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers and that organizations' official representative on the council, attended the meeting, however.

Lewis is president of the Miners' Union and reports have circulated he might withdraw it from the CIO if his proposal is shunted aside in favor of Mr. Roosevelt's. Murray had no comment.

It is generally understood Murray and William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, have given oral approval to President Roosevelt's harmony formula which would have kept both labor groups as separate units but assure labor peace for the duration.

His plan provides for both the CIO and the AFL to designate three-man committees to consult with him on jurisdictional controversies and all other matters affecting labor's war effort.

A. D. Lewis, brother of John and head of the United Construction Workers, attended the session. He gave a terse "no comment" to all queries by newspaperman.

Murray, rebuked Lewis for the method used in suggesting resumption of peace conferences, saying such action could be brought solely through him and the CIO executive council.

Lewis said he was within his rights in doing so.

Navy Reserve Takes Boys of 17 in School

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (INS)—A drastic change has been made in Navy recruiting practice by which boys 17 years of age and not yet 20 may be enlisted immediately in Class V-1 of the Naval Reserve while still in school.

The announcement was made by the Navy Recruiting Bureau in New York, which directs naval recruiting throughout the country.

LYNN CHIEF TESTIFIES IN FIRE PROBE

State Detective Raymond Foley of Essex district attorney's office and Chief Joseph E. Scanlon of Lynn Fire Department were to appear today at the inquest being conducted by State Fire Marshal Stephen C. Garrity into the Lynn Melvin Hall Apartment tragedy which claimed 13 lives.

The inquest took place behind closed doors in the recreation hall at fire headquarters, the first witness called being Mrs. Diane Matthews, 47, who was released Wednesday from Lynn Hospital after treatment for cuts suffered when she broke through a skylight.

It was expected that because of the large number of witnesses, the majority of them former residents of the apartment house now residing temporarily with relatives, it would be necessary to continue the hearing all day today

Many of the survivors had not seen each other since the fire, and gathered in groups discussing their experiences as they waited to be called as witnesses.

Truck Dispute To Federal Board

Separate appeals for the Federal War Labor Board to intervene in the Greater Boston truck drivers' dispute concerning new wage contracts were expected to be made today by union officials and company owners.

Gen. Charles H. Cole, state arbitration board chairman, indicated the appeals would be made after long conferences had failed to break the deadlock. Hearings will be resumed Monday at the State House, despite appeals to Washington.

While no strike has been called, truck owners accuse the drivers of slowing up deliveries. At times, as many as 200 trucks have come to a halt on main highways while perplexed drivers talked the situation over, but arbitration board members report these delays are now ended.

Clara Arno to Sing On Defense Program

Clara Arno, concert soprano, will sing a famous operatic aria, and Ray Stewarison and his orchestra will headline the "Defense Varieties" show over Station WAAB tomorrow, 4:30 to 5.

Sponsored by Internal Revenue Collector Thomas B. Hassett, the program is one of a series produced to stimulate the sales of defense bonds and stamps and encourage early payment of income taxes. The Three T's harmony trio and Guy Guarino, baritone, will also take part

AUSSIES SEEK PLACE IN WAR CABINET

PERTH, Australia, Jan. 24 (INS)—A demand that Australia be represented on the imperial war cabinet was voiced by Australian Prime Minister John Curtin today.

Curtin also demanded formation of a Pacific war council with all united countries in the Pacific struggle represented.

"It is time the 9,000,000 people in Australia demanded a real voice in decisions for defense and strategy in the Pacific," Curtin told the correspondents.

The prime minister also pledged Australia to stand steadfast against any Japanese invasion "no matter what comes."

Asked whether Australia would abandon the fight to prevent civilian suffering and loss of life in the event the Japs gained a footing on the mainland and further fighting seemed hopeless, Curtin bluntly replied:

"No!"

Curtin commented sarcastically on Premier Tojo's recent reference to possible cooperation between Australia and Japan.

The only Australians who would cooperate with Japan would be dead Australians, Curtin said.

British Ship Sinks Jap Submarine

LONDON, Jan. 24 (AP)—A British ship operating in the Far East has destroyed a Japanese submarine, the Admiralty announced today. The Admiralty said:

"The submarine was brought to the surface by a depth charge and then sunk by gunfire. Some of the crew were taken prisoner."

AUSTRALIA IN ALL-OUT WAR FOR LIFE

merchant vessels — presumably transports—had entered Rabaul harbor under the protection of three cruisers, a destroyer and an aircraft carrier lying off shore.

NO REPORT OF FIGHTING

He declared there was no indication that fighting now was going on at Rabaul, but said Australian forces probably were continuing resistance in other parts of the island.

No direct news had been received here from Rabaul since 4 p. m. Thursday, when a radio flash said a fleet of Japanese vessels had been sighted 45 miles offshore. Rabaul previously had suffered two heavy Jap air raids.

Progress of the invasion thrust against New Guinea still was not clear, but Forde said landings apparently had been made at several places on the island—which is part Australian and part Dutch.

The landings gave the Japanese bombing bases within 800 miles of the Australian mainland and added grim emphasis to Forde's earlier assertion that the war in the Pacific "has now become the battle for Australia."

RENEWS PLEA TO U. S.

The Australian war cabinet renewed its plea for active assistance in the Pacific by the United States and Britain after a second meeting of its war cabinet today.

Messages to Washington and London were said to have detailed a revised opinion of Pacific strategy, taking the view that the war might be won or lost there.

This attitude was much the same as that which Forde expressed in his broadcast.

Appealing to Britain and the United States to speed aid to the southwest Pacific, Forde said the fate of Australia hinged largely on the outcome of the Malayan campaign.

"The only thing that can stop the battle for Australia being fought right on our beaches," he said, "is immediate Allied reinforcement of Malaya to a strength that will recall to that pivotal point of the war forces which Japan now considers herself free to use in Australian waters."

MALAYA VITAL TO VICTORY

Forde declared grimly "the battle of the Pacific is a battle that can as easily lose the entire war as any other battle in which the Allied forces are engaged."

Echoing Forde's stern emphasis on the seriousness of the outlook, Minister of Supplying John Beasley said "the rising sun is now almost overhead" and asserted that if the Allies hope for victory in the Pacific, they must hold Malaya.

"Given control of Malaya, the Japanese can fan westward to India, eastward to Australia," he said. "Given domination of the Pacific, their navy is free for service in the Indian and Atlantic oceans.

"The Battle of the Pacific can keep the Japanese navy here. If the Battle of the Pacific is lost, the Japanese navy is ready for service in the Atlantic. So the Battle of the Pacific is the Battle of the Atlantic."

Recruits High School Students; Retired Nurses Take Refresher Courses in Wartime

Eva Salvucci Applies Bandage to "Fractured" Leg

For Defense—Somerville Hospital earns a spot on the defense honor roll by recruiting high school girls for its school of nursing and giving refresher courses to inactive graduate nurses. Above, Ruth McAvoy points to enlistment posters—for an army of women trained as nurses.

OUR DAILY CITATION: To the millions of patriotic American women who are refusing to hoard sugar in their homes. Their voluntary act makes this important food available to all families and prevents unnecessary suffering.

SECRETARY OF WAR STIMSON has announced that the Army is to be expanded this year from 1,900,000 men to 3,600,000.

This greatly increased mobilization of man-power is of course an implicit part of the enormous victory program which President Roosevelt presented to Congress in his recent message: And—of course—it does not represent the ultimate effort that is contemplated.

With more than three and one-half million soldiers, our Army will remain smaller than that of Nazi Germany, and in addition there are the armies of Japan to be fought in the Far East.

If the war continues four or five years, there will probably be ten million Americans under arms.

Naturally, the President foresaw such a force when he described our war effort for the next two years in terms of armaments, calling for 185,000 war planes, 120,000 tanks, 55,000 anti-aircraft guns and 18,000,000 tons of merchant shipping.

It betrays no military secrets to observe that the creation of a tremendous Army and its disposal upon the continental battlefields of a world war, can proceed no faster than the production of weapons and transports will permit.

Consequently, THE MILITARY PHASES of the war in which we are engaged depends for us, above all, upon its INDUSTRIAL PHASES.

For if our men cannot be weaponed and munitioned sufficiently when they go into campaigns, if they have too few air bombers and combat planes of the required character, if they have too few tanks of the required mobility and weight, if their ordnance is too scant or too frail, and if prompt replenishments of battle losses in armaments are not assured, our soldiers will march toward defeats and not toward victories.

A MECHANIZED ARMY CANNOT EVEN BE TRAINED to fight a mechanized war UNLESS THE WAR MACHINES ARE PROVIDED IN TIME.

The equipment of our fighting land and air forces is therefore A TRAINING-CAMP NECESSITY before our commanders can apply the precepts of wide-range strategy and project expeditionary forces ready to take the field.

America's war problem is thus A PRODUCTION PROBLEM as well as a military problem; the production problem has to be solved FIRST—and virtually THE WHOLE MANUFACTURING CAPACITY OF THE NATION must be mobilized and utilized to solve it.

Furthermore, time cannot be wasted, incompetence cannot be indulged, bureaucratic jealousies or doctrinaire intrigues cannot be tolerated, if the problem IS to be solved.

Generals like MacArthur and admirals like Hart can win battles for us—WHEN THEIR REGIMENTS AND WARSHIPS ARE MANNED AND EQUIPPED TO FIGHT.

But genius of another order must FIRST win the urgent BATTLE OF PRODUCTION.

President Roosevelt acted upon this principle in making Donald M. Nelson the chairman of the war production board with plenary powers over all defense production activities.

WHAT NOW MUST BE DONE—what Mr. Nelson will undoubtedly do—is to extend the principle of employing INDUSTRIAL ABILITY to win the INDUSTRIAL WAR upon which our success in the military war depends.

There are men in the Army and Navy both who understand this fundamental requirement.

The New York Times published recently an illuminating article on the subject.

The article surveyed activities in the Cleveland Ordnance District—one of 13 districts into which the country has been divided for the procurement of Army munitions and supplies (except airplanes).

In this district, embracing manufacturing areas in Ohio and Pennsylvania, the Army has been coping with the task of "converting" factories from civilian to military production.

Lieut.-Col. H. M. Reedall, deputy district ordnance chief, was asked:

"What do you have to do to convert factories?"

"We have to find SKILLED MANAGEMENT primarily," he replied.

And that, primarily, is the job which Donald M. Nelson HAS BEEN CHOSEN TO DO, and which he must be ALLOWED TO DO—the imperative job of PUTTING and KEEPING skilled INDUSTRIAL MANAGEMENT in full charge of the industrial production of war goods.

On The Side

What is a woman's earliest,
Latest care.
Her heart's supreme ambition?
To be fair.
—GEARGE LYTTLETON.

SAID Lord Chesterfield: "Women have in general but one object, which is their beauty; upon which scarce any flattery is too gross for them to swallow." Macaulay observed: "The most beautiful object in the world, it will be allowed, is a beautiful woman." Stated Cervantes: "All kinds of beauty do not inspire love; there is a kind which only pleases the sight, but does not captivate the affections." Claimed Mary Elmendorf: "Beauty's the thing that counts in women; red lips and black eyes are better than brains."

"The Nazis wait for a lull; and then strike." I read that line back in 1938 and have never forgotten it. Right now Herr Goebbels is singing the Nazi lullaby again, hoping to build the people of the United States up to a let-down. Somebody should write a song titled "There Ain't Going to Be No Lull in the U. S. A." And let it be broadcast in the direction of Berlin every hour on the hour.

GLAMOUR GIRL: "For an all-American glamour girl," writes a state of Washington subscriber, "I would like to nominate Patricia Gale French of Selah, Wash. Patricia is six years old. She has large blue eyes, very long legs, a large mouth with a lower front tooth missing, blonde hair worn in pig-tail style, freckles and a snub nose. She had 60 cents to spend recently; the result of long saving. So she went shopping in Yakima, Wash. And bought two 25-cent U. S. Defense Stamps and dropped 10 cents in the Salvation Army kettle."

ASIDES: People with brown eyes are the most convincing liars is what is claimed by an investigator of the matter . . . Another scientist says it is good for a man to put his feet up on his desk as people think better with their feet in the air. I'll have to remember that claim to use as an excuse. I always put my feet on the desk no matter how elegant the office . . . Writes a young woman of Detroit: "Please do not advise girls looking for boy friends to come to Detroit as the city is already overrun in that respect."

PLEASE NOTE: "As to day-we-met anniversary presents," writes a Milwaukee husband. "On Nov. 11, 1941, I gave my wife her eleventh day-we-met present. On Feb. 16 I will give her a tenth wedding anniversary present. And on St. Patrick's Day she will receive her regular day-I-proposed present" . . . As for the record pay-off for a daily double it was that paid at Washington Park, Chicago, in 1939 on Joy Bet and Merry Caroline; the sum being $10,772.40. I have never won the daily double. Nor have I ever collected a bet of any price higher than 15 to 1. I'm not lucky at cards either . . . "You failed to mention three of George M. Cohan's best songs," writes a New Yorker. "When a Fellow Is on the Level with a Girl Who's on the Square," "My Babe from Boston Town" and "Just the Two of Us."

PASSING BY: Boake Carter. Clever, concise and courageous commentator. As he is five feet two inches tall, Mr. Carter's name must be added to the long list of America's good, little men . . . Dr. Simon Mitchneck. He is coordinator of speech for the Metro-Goldwin-Mayer film studios. Recently, Dr. Mitchneck has been giving Hedy La Marr lessons in making her voice lower. One exercise Hedy had to take was saying "I love you," "I love you very much," and "Darling, you are mine, aren't you?" each a thousand times. Next week the doctor is going to give Lana Turner some lessons in laughing musically . . . Phil Baker. Erstwhile vaudevillian. Remember Phil billed as "A Bad Boy from a Good Family" playing an accordion while being harassed from a box by his stooge, Sid Silvers. What became of Sid? He was a really funny fellow.

SHE'LL LEARN HOW TO LAUGH MUSICALLY
Lana Turner, Lovely Young Film Actress

TRAFFIC: On a traffic fatality list recently, I noted 40 per cent of the persons killed were elderly pedestrians trying to cross streets at regular intersections. Speed-mad motorists expect everybody to jump and hustle, apparently never giving a thought to the fact that this is impossible for elderly people. I often think of a time I heard a bus conductor say to an old lady: "Step lively, Madame." And she said: "How I wish I could, young man."

SIDELIGHTS: How about that rubber in Brazil? Why doesn't the United States make a deal to buy it all? We can use the rubber and, besides, isn't doing business with a country a better way to make that country a good neighbor than sending a lot of cinema cuties and Hollywood glamour boys to visit it? "You refer to the pick and peck system. It is the hunt and peck system, Edgar," writes a Milwaukee client. I sense a crack at the name of Edgar in this communication. I don't like Edgar much as a name, but I like it much better than Harold, which is this subscriber's cognomen.

JUST COLLECTED a small wager from a fellow who spoke out of turn. Was saying I might buy a horse and buggy to be prepared in case I ran out of auto tires. "Huh!" sneered a bystander. "I'll bet you couldn't even harness a horse to a buggy." So I exclaimed: "Says you!" Or maybe I said: "Is that so!" Anyway I bet him I could. And won. He didn't know I once worked on a farm. As for buying the horse, etc., I think I can get a good animal and a rubber-tired buggy for about $200. For feeding, bedding and shoeing a horse it will cost me 50 cents a day. That is, if I can keep him in the garage, which may not be practical.

Plenty of feuding between producers, authors and star over the rewrite of "Portrait of a Lady," which closed out of town for repairs. Ruth Gordon may not turn up in the Broadway production . . . The Ken Overlins (he's the fighter) are worrying their friends . . . Three major Hollywood studios have issued a blanket rule forbidding their stars to fly in the winter . . . BOSTON after DARK

By GEORGE HOLLAND

"PORGY AND BESS" is New York's smash hit . . . They can't say Boston was looking out the window when the Gershwin musical was revived here, for "Porgy and Bess" was well attended from the start and grossed more than $50,000 at the Shubert . . . And they are calling the gorgeous Katina Paxinou the "Greek Goddess" . . . Her acting in "Hedda Gabler" at the Colonial is so marvelous that American troupers are admitting among themselves that they are getting a lesson at every performance . . . The grim text of the Ibsen play, however, is debatable fare—from a box-office standpoint—for these times . . . Glorified vaudeville, with some of the biggest names in the musical comedy theaters, may take care of the yawning emptiness of the Boston Opera House for at least one week in the near future . . . Lou Holtz has talked it over with Lee Shubert . . . At popular prices, the comedian who made the name of "Sam Lapidus" a national cue for laughter thinks his plan to headline himself, Ethel Merman, Paul Draper or The Hartmans, Phil Baker, (who would work with Holtz in one skit, would be a money-maker) . . . Holtz is beating his last season's record at The Mayfair . . . Rose La Rose, the Old Howard's current queen, will lay off next week instead of working at the Rio Casino, as seemed probable . . . Variety says that Jimmy Cadogan, the Bostonian, had the country's best-selling song-hit of the last war in "Rose of No Man's Land" . . . It may be right, although Ray Egan, lyric writer of "Till We Meet Again," received royalties on 5,000,000 copies of that deathless ballad, and "Rose of No Man's Land" is credited but 4,000,000 copies.

BRINGING IT UP TO DATE another Cadogan, (Capt. James, Jr.,) has helped write a new song called "My Heart's on Fire" . . . Louis and Bob Doucet are the other collaborators . . . Nothing too pretentious in the matter of sales is predicted for "My Heart's on Fire," but Al Donahue has just made a recording of the number which has thrilled the trade . . . The waxing is so good, advance word has it, that the younger Cadogan, both Doucet boys and Maestro Donahue—all Bostonians—will benefit greatly . . . THAT KETCHUP-BOTTLE THROWING in which Walter Winchell has received more publicity than the incident merited would find Mrs. Winchell's boy receiving a vote of thanks if the play-by-play story of what happened was recounted . . . A drunken playboy called Walter bad names for 40 minutes . . . And he didn't swing the ketchup bottle, Walter tossed it . . . But Lt.-Comdr. COWARD GETS TOP OFFER FOR PLAY

By Louella O. Parsons

Noel Coward

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 24—"Blithe Spirit," Noel Coward's hit play, will probably be Murray Silverstone's first independent production for United Artists. The largest amount of money ever offered Noel Coward has been sent to England by Murray, who lived there for 12 years when he was head of United Artists' foreign department. While in London he bought "Bitter-Sweet" from Noel, the author, and Charles Cochrane, the producer.

If Murray gets the play he will sign Leonora Corbett, the English beauty, who plays the ghost of the first wife on the New York stage. I met Miss Corbett backstage when I went to see Clifton Webb in New York. She is a beauty and has made a number of pictures in England. Murray said he would love to have Norma Shearer in the Peggy Wood role—the part of the second wife who is flesh and blood at first and then, too, becomes a sprightly spirit.

MARGARET SULLAVAN

THROUGH THE GRAPEVINE ROUTE I hear whispered that Margaret Sullavan is being sought to play the Carole Lombard role in "He Kissed the Bride." Al Hall, the producer-director, did nothing about getting another actress to replace Carole for the first few days after her tragic death—but he has set a time to produce this comedy and Melvyn Douglas, the screen's perfect husband, has already been signed. This is a comedy—one of Columbia's most important movies for 1942.

JESSIE MATTHEWS, who was so critically ill and who is still in a New York sanitarium, will come to Hollywood when she gets well. Although "The Lady Comes Across," her New York play, was not a success and was largely responsible for her breakdown, Charles R. Rogers still holds a picture commitment with her and she'll come West to fulfill it when she is able to travel.

Errol Flynn, back from Norden Soda Springs—California's Sun Valley—talks of nothing but skiing; Bette Davis, according to one of my New York scouts, has appeared in New York with the shortest haircut in captivity.

John Payne is getting away from Hollywood and his matrimonial troubles with Anne Shirley as quickly as possible. He goes first to Washington, then to Virginia to visit his mother, and finally for a New York whirl. Hope when he returns he and Anne will reconsider their separation.

I am at my nation's beck and call now that the Japs have stabbed us in the beck.

I still have the call. An Army doctor told me to stick out my tongue and say, "ah."

He said, "oh," I asked "eh?" and he replied, "uh."

So my Army career was over without having reached words of two syllables.

The doctor turned me down for answering my country's beck and call. He said we need 'em at the front and not the beck.

READY AND FIT for the All-America Grand Boxing Finals at Boston Garden Monday night. The famed Chicago CYO team arrived in town yesterday and hustled right over to a gym for a workout. Priest Tells Story of CYO

REV. WILLIAM GENTLEMAN of Chicago told me the story of the Catholic Youth Organization as its sturdy boxing team worked out at Harry Kelley's Gym under the direction of Trainer Paddy Kane.

"Bishop Sheil used to be the Catholic chaplain in the county jail in Chicago," said Father Gentleman. "He walked the last mile with many a boy who was condemned to death. Bishop Sheil had been a baseball pitcher when in college, and had the distinction of having pitched a no-hit game. He knew boys and their problems.

"Before walking the last mile with the condemned convicts, Bishop Sheil studied the case history of every boy sentenced to die. He talked with them by the hour and they revealed to him how they started along the road of crime.

"Most of the boys were members of a notorious gang ruled over by a 60-year-old Fagin. This arch criminal directed their activities, and many of these boys in their 'teens became gunmen.

"Bishop Sheil decided that sports under proper direction, a chance to live right and to get a job, would save thousands of boys from a life of crime. He told his plan to Cardinal Mundelein. It won the approval and whole hearted support of that saintly prelate.

"We organized 16 clubs in Chicago, and boxing was featured. We found it furnished an excellent outlet for the enthusiasm of our young members. There were also baseball, football and other sports.

"As a result of the activities of the CYO delinquencies among boys have decreased 40 per cent in Chicago.

"We have a representative in every juvenile court. He tries to aid and correct those boys who have transgressed the laws.

"We also have a CYO hotel where we care for parolees until such time as they can be properly re-established in society. We have handled thousands of cases at the CYO hotel, and only seven persons who have passed through it have returned to a life of crime.

"We are happy to see so many other sections of the country developing CYO organizations.

"America today is ruled by youth, and organizations interested in preserving our American way of life must do everything possible to show them how to live and act right.

"Hitler's power in Germany is due to the fact he controls the youth. He taught them his Nazi way of life, and they now follow him with blind loyalty. Hitler did not try to teach the old people his new doctrine of government as he knew he would not get results for his cause. He concentrated upon youth."

CYO Service Record

Paddy Kane watched his young charges go through strenuous work-outs. I remarked that each boy looked physically fit and that they showed evidences of knowing boxing.

"Our boxers are all in good condition," remarked Paddy. "When the war started, we had 250 boxers registered with the CYO. Of this number 125 have either enlisted or have been called under the selective service act.

"We are proud to state that the 125 boxers who answered the call or military service all were declared 100 per cent physical specimens. This was a grand tribute to our boys and to our organization. It also proved the value of boxing to youngsters."

I asked Paddy Kane to tell me something about the members of his eight-man team.

"Al Noto, our flyweight, has been a CYO champion for two years. He was also an Illinois A. C.

By RINGSIDE

When 32 great champions are in there swinging for eight coveted Grand All-America titles Monday night at Boston Garden, anything can happen and many upsets are probable all the way through 24 great fights.

Yet, it's hard to go by this great team of Chicago CYO champions, which looms as the probable favorite over the Easterners, Diamond Belters and Allegheny Mountain champions.

IMPRESSIVE

Reports have been coming out of Chicago for weeks about this all-powerful CYO team. Stories carried such enthusiasm that many skeptics became slightly doubtful. Then the claim by Paddy Kane, who handles the team, saying that his boys were strong enough to sweep the card was a bit too much.

All Doubting Thomases, however, have now climbed enthusiastically on the Chicago bandwagon. They had a chance to see these boys in action and they are truly great.

These CYO fighters breezed into town yesterday accompanied by Father William Gentleman and Paddy Kane, who is recognized as the smartest handler of youngsters in the Middle West.

Paddy gave his boys a few hours' rest and then took them over to Kelley and Hayes Gym for a workout. Several curious fight fans turned out to watch them and the unanimous verdict was that these kids were the classiest looking amateurs they had seen in a long while.

MUST BEAT CHAMPIONS

Every one of these boys knew how to handle himself. They paired off for a few rounds of boxing and the way they used their hands and moved around made a few of the professional seconds and fight managers look twice.

Seven of them went through a stiff workout. The one missing fighter was Hubert Hood, the big heavyweight who did not arrive until this morning. He was held up by examinations at his Chicago high school.

Paddy, incidentally, was particularly high on Hood and insisted that he is one of the greatest heavyweight prospects in amateur ranks today. The trainer feels that Hubert is head and shoulders over any amateur heavyweight he has seen in some time.

This writer doesn't know about Hood but will go on record as saying that the other seven really look great.

But it's hard to see a sweep for Chicago even with the might this outfit has. In an ordinary show this might be the case, but when you have 24 other boys—all of them champions who have earned the right to take part in the Grand Finals after surviving eliminations all over this part of the country against hundreds of fighters—they must be given respect. And plenty of it.

Each of the three teams opposing the CYO unit are star studded. So, while Chicago remains a favorite don't wager anything more than a cigar on the outcome of any one fight.

Monday will tell the story as these 32 champs battle it out through 24 great fights.

White Marlin Entry Weighs 98½

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 24 (AP)—First entry of a white marlin catch in the $10,000 Greater Miami fishing tournament was made by Howard Jacobs of New York.

Jacobs pulled in a 98½-pounder. This compares with a 161-pound white marlin landed by L. F. Hopper of Essex Fells, N. J., in the 1938 tournament, still the largest on record for the annual event.

Dodgers Indifferent As to Training Camp

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP)—A considerable furore has been created over whether the Brooklyn Dodgers should train again this spring in Havana, Cuba, but the fellows who are most concerned—the Brooklyn players—don't care where the club trains.

A sampling of the sentiment of the National League champions brought only one squawk today and it had nothing to do with personal safety or other rigors of the trip. It was about steaks.

Kirby Higbe, who speaks with a South Carolina drawl and pitches with a buggy whip right arm, complained:

"It'd be all right down there if we could just get anything to eat. Last year (President L. S.) MacPhail promised to carry over plenty of beef for steaks . . . and a cook . . . but we didn't get any of those steaks."

GIANTS START GOSSIP

The controversy over the Dodgers training originated in the offices of the New York Giants, who, always happy to do anything that will disturb their rivals across the river, are booked for a couple of exhibition games with the Dodgers in Havana.

Leo Bondy, vice-president of the Giants, said he thought the trip was dangerous in wartime and that there were many other difficulties—money restrictions, curtailed transportation facilities, and the necessity for getting draft board permission for the players to leave the country.

But a half-dozen of the Dodgers stars expressed no fears.

Dolph Camilli, captain of the club and the National League's most valuable player, declared:

"Cuba is okay with me. I'll train any place and don't think Havana is any more dangerous than Florida."

Camilla was talking from his California ranch, 160 miles north of San Francisco.

Pete Reiser, the rookie who won the league batting championship last season, said he hadn't even considered the safety angle and added: "If it looks the wrong thing to do at the time I am sure we won't go. Whatever Mr. MacPhail does is all right with me."

Whitlow Wyatt, Brooklyn's ace pitcher, commented:

"I hadn't thought about the danger, but I suppose there might be some going by ship and if they'll let me I'll fly."

The other replies were similar.

CASEY ANXIOUS TO FLY

Pitcher Curt Davis, a Californian, said he didn't see any danger, "but would rather fly across," and Pitcher Hugh Casey, who lives on Florida's Atlantic coast, asserted:

'I don't feel it's a bit dangerous for the simple reason we are going to fly over. I talked to MacPhail in New York by phone this week. It should be a swell training place for all of us."

MacPhail says he has been assured the use of two planes for the short hop from Miami to Havana and that the Dodgers will fulfill their contract to train in Cuba unless conditions change in the meantime.

Tight Race In National Ice League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four teams in the National Hockey League are bunched within six points and enough contests are scheduled for the week-end to make the race tighter than a hangman's noose by Monday morning.

New York, tied for the top with Boston, tangles in a home and home series with the dangerous Detroit Red Wings. The Bruins, with their great "Kraut" line on the verge of recall by the Canadian army and Bill Cowley shelved with a broken jaw, meets unpredictable Montreal twice.

TORONTO PLAYS BROOKLYN

Toronto, erstwhile leader and now holder of third place, also has a pair of games, playing host to Brooklyn tonight but jousting with Chicago in a four-pointer tomorrow. After a December slump the Hawks have rallied, and are only three games from the top in fourth place.

The crucial series finds all the leaders below par physically. First Woodrow (Porky) Dumart of the Boston line was summoned by Dominion officials for his army checkup and was followed by Bobby Bauer and Milt Schmidt.

Cowley was hurt while the Bruins were absorbing their seventh loss of the year at Detroit Thursday night. He was the league's leading scorer last season and in the fight for the 1942 title.

HELLER ON SIDELINES

Ott Heller, veteran defenseman for the Rangers, is out with a shoulder separation, although the high scoring line of Lynn Patrick, Phil Watson and Bryan Hextall is intact. Heller's absence, however, further weakens the league's only rearcourt aggregation unable to score a shutout this season.

Coach Happy Day of the Toronto Leafs, is very unhappy over the condition of his playing personnel. Reg Hamilton, regular defenseman, and teammate Nick Metz are on the sidelines for a general overhauling and left wing Bob Davidson will skate against Brooklyn with a five-inch leg wound.

The Chicago squad doesn't have a serious casualty but the adhesive required to get the entire team in playing condition would supply an ordinary drugstore for a year.

Crippled Lad Tennis Champ

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 24 (AP)—Hold up, you sluggish-footed table tennis amateurs. Let 17-year-old Bob Conner give you a few lessons.

Bob won the Widney High School championship yesterday — sitting down. He had to—in a wheel chair. Bob is one of 125 students learning to overcome handicaps, from birth or disease. But Bob and all the other students enjoy table tennis, archery, croquet and other games. They demonstrated their prowess at their semi-annual field day.

Fordham-St. Mary's Extend Grid Series

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP)—The Football series between Fordham and St. Mary's of California has been extended through 1944, John F. Coffey, Fordham's graduate manager of Athletics, announced today.

The present contract expires this year when the two teams meet for the twelfth time at the Polo Grounds, Oct. 31. The new arrangement calls for games here Oct. 30, 1943, and Oct. 28, 1944.

NEW ORLEANS STAGES DINNER FOR MEL OTT

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 24 (AP)—The Monday Quarterbacks Club is coming out of seasonal retirement to fete Mel Ott, only native of this gay, sport-loving city ever to become a major league baseball manager.

The pilot of the New York Giants tried to make an excuse when invited to attend a testimonial dinner for him Feb. 11 and looked more worried than if he were facing the best pitcher in baseball with a World Series hanging on his bat.

TRIED TO DUCK

"I've got to go to New York," he said. "I'm afraid I can't be here. It's swell to know they want to do this for me, but gee! I'd have to make a speech. I'm terrible at that. Can't I get out of it?"

Reminded that a New York banquet for him Feb. 1 offered him a chance for some "batting practice," Ott reluctantly said "OK."

The New York chapter of the Baseball Writers of America is to present Ott with an award for outstanding service to baseball over a long period of time.

The Quarterbacks Club sandwiched their event for "New Orleans' No. 1 ambassador of sports" between a trip Ott is making to New York and the opening of the Giants' spring training camp in Florida Feb. 16.

PUBLIC INVITED

From the day when as a boy of 16 in 1926 when he first knocked on the door of the New York Club looking for John McGraw and a chance to play with the Giants, Ott has been a favorite here and the Quarterbacks Club, numbering about 500, has opened the banquet to the public.

Usually the club folds up after the first of the year to await fall and football, but this extra event was announced to "pay tribute to Mel Ott for the splendid example he has set for the boys and young men of this community."

Havana Yachtsmen Defy Axis Subs

HAVANA, July 24 (AP)—Despite the war and the possible presence of enemy submarines, 10 slim sailing boats open competition today in the sixteenth annual international star class regatta.

Today's race, which will be sailed over a 100-mile course, is the first of a series of three for the Bacardi Cup. Three of the boats are from the United States and one is British.

Grove Eager to Beat Plank's Hurling Mark

By HERB FINNEGAN

Ol' Mose Grove is making his annual mid-winter visit to Boston next week and, in all probability, will be seated at the head table at the Baseball Writers' dinner next Wednesday. At least he'll be invited. What's Ol' Mose coming here for? Ostensibly to see his pal Tom Kenney. But it just may be that he is shopping around for a job. For all his 17 years in the majors, his 31-4 record in 1931 and his being awarded the Most Valuable Player award in the same year—despite all these records, there is one more, the old Lion of Lonaconing, Md., would like to establish before he retires from the baseball scene for good.

Grove, you'll recall, has won 300 games in his 17 year span with the A's and Red Sox. Only one southpaw in all major league history has won more. That was Eddie Plank, portsider with Connie Mack's old A's. Plank, the records say, won 325 games between 1901 and 1917.

TURNED DOWN BY SOX

But Plank, the records also point out, won 21 of those games while pitching for the St. Louis club of the outlawed Federal League in 1915. And if those 21 were discarded from his record, as it seems they should be, it would leave him with only 304 victories.

Now Grove, despite his hoariness, won seven games in 1940 and seven more in 1941. He is confident, no doubt, that he could win at least five more in 1942 and thus surpass Plank's record. Such a feat would leave him the winningest southpaw in major league history.

The Red Sox do not want him back. They said so earlier in the week when Grove expressed a desire to return after learning the Sox had lost southpaws Mickey Harris, Earl Johnson and Lefty Powell to the Army.

MAYBE LAST FAREWELL

If he can't sell himself to the Sox next week, perhaps Connie Mack, with whom he started his glorious major league career in 1925, may give him a shot. Like every other Mackian product, Grove has a warm spot in his heart for the baseball patriarch, and the latter might let him hang on long enough to win those dearly sought five victories.

At any rate, Bostonians will have one last chance next week to bid farewell to the old-timer who won 20 games for the Sox in 1935 and 17 in both 1936 and 1937.

Among the active major leaguers who will attend the writers' dinner are Joe DiMaggio and Red Rolfe of the Yankees, Dick Newsome, Ulysses Lupien, Jim Tabor, Eddie Pellagrini, of the Sox; Birdie Tebbetts of the Tigers, Elbie Fletcher of the Pirates, Barney Olsen, Eddie Waitkus, and Lennie Merullo of the Cubs, Ducky Holmes of the Braves. It is not certain that Ted Williams will be there.

Timmy Reardon, 12-year-old thrush from Woburn, will ballad for the writers. Young Timmy first came into prominence when he "wowed" the audience at a Mayor Tobin rally in Symphony Hall. He also will appear at the President's Birthday Ball at the Garden next week.

A wire from U. S. Senator Cabot Lodge:

"I have every intention of being with you (the writers) Jan. 28, and only some completely unforeseen emergency will prevent me."

The young senator will be the keynote speaker at the dinner.

Neither Joe Cronin nor Casey Stengel will appear. Cronin is wintering in Sarasota, Fla., where he will not lack for baseball company. Among the winter residents there are Billy Sullivan of the Tigers, Denny Galehouse of the Browns, Paul Waner and Johnny Cooney of the Braves, Paul Derringer of the Reds, and now Leo Durocher and Ducky Medwick of the Dodgers have joined the colony.

Why Does Canada Call Only Kitchener Kids?

By BILL GRIMES

Unless they request to be transferred into the Canadian Royal Air Force, Woody Dumart, Milt Schmidt and Bobby Bauer will sever connections with the Bruins one week from next Tuesday after the Brooklyn American game . . . As it stands now, the Krauts will be inducted into the Canadian Home Guard on February 5 . . . And, as they have never flinched on any assignment, Bobby, Milt and Woody would never be contented unless they made themselves eligible for overseas service . . . Moreover, during the many trips they've made with the Bruins in planes, the Krauts are air minded . . . They are the cool headed types, who make good fliers . . . From what we have been able to gather, if they apply for transfers to the air service, the Krauts may not be called for a few more weeks, which would be a break for the Boston hockey public, which idolizes them.

What the New England hockey public can't fathom is why the only calls issued went to the Kraut line . . . There are any number of N. H. L. players between the ages of 21 and 25 who haven't heard a word from the Canadian authorities . . . But, up to the time of going to press, the Krauts, who comprise the best line in hockey and who are the backbone of the Bruin machine, have been instructed to report for army duty.

After almost 20 years of faithful service, Joe Rustic is out as the professional at the Bellevue Golf Club . . . He will be succeeded by Jack MacDowall, formerly affiliated with the Carter Country Club at Lebanon, N. H. . . . Joe Conway, president of the Horace Partridge Co., predicts a shortage of golf and tennis balls . . . Bill Dwelley of the James W. Brine Co., is to be congratulated on the beautiful windbreakers he had made for the Record-American All-Scholastic football eleven . . . They are the last word in every respect . . . Gene Tunney is scouring the country in search of athletic coaches . . . He should contact Tom Keady who, for eight years, coached three sports for the U. S. Marines at Quantico, Va. . . . There isn't an available coach better qualified for the service than Tom Keady . . . And, while on the Keady subject, Tom's youngest son, Dick, who quit Dartmouth to prepare for the service, is in the U. S. Cavalry and stationed at Fort Riley, Kan. . . .

Just what does Hughie Duffy, holder of the all-time high batting average, .438, have to do to make the Hall of Fame . . . One of these days some baseball writer is going to get nasty and call attention to a few things which should have barred players who have been elected to what is supposed to be top baseball honors . . . There are three members of that so-called august body who'd never have received an O. K. from Judge K. M. Landis . . . He knows what they did during the playing careers . . . During the first World War Frankie Frisch was rejected by the U. S. Marine Corps because of a heart murmur . . . Ralph McNair, brother of Eric's, the former Red Sox second sacker, was seriously wounded a few weeks ago at Meridian, Miss. . . . Ralph, who caught in the Southeastern League, was shot in the stomach by two men he was trying to arrest.

JACKSON MEET SKI HIGHLIGHT OF WEEKEND

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

On the competitive ski calendar for the week-end—conditions permitting—is the second Eastern Slopes Ski Club meet of the season, the cross country and slalom races to be held in Jackson, N. H., on Sunday. Indications at this writing point towards a record list of entrants. If last Sunday's huge field of 133 racers is exceeded, however, a new all-time high will be set.

The cross country, scheduled for 9:30 in the morning, will be run over the winding ten-mile course in Jackson valley. Winner of the event last year was Wendy Broomhall, Chisolm Ski Club, with a time of one hour, 14 minutes and 57 seconds.

The slalom to take place on Thorn Mountain in the afternoon was won last winter by Robert Ball of the Franconia Ski Club. Entries for the races close tonight at 9 o'clock at the Regional Office in the Post Office block, North Conway. Incidentally, we wonder if the race secretary will allow those chaps with the two-foot skis to enter the slalom this time. Why not?

Scouting Ski Spots: That new development at Manchester, Vt., known as Snow Valley is expected to have its official opening today. Reports state that the recent thaw did not hit this snow pocket and that an old base of about one foot of snow covers the ground, with frozen granular conditions existing. The two rope tows, flanking the Snow Cloud and Grand Slam slopes, will be in operation. The 2500-foot Alpine lift, similar to the one atop Cannon Mountain, is now nearing completion and is expected to be ready early next month.

All slopes and trails in Snow Valley have been closed to everyone but professional skiers and instructors, who have been testing the terrain. Bill Gliere, who has made trial runs down the five trails, says that many thrills and spills await expert skiers who run the Bull-Dozer, Boomerang, and Lucky Devil trails for the first time.

Nat Niles, tall and blond director of the Snow Valley Ski School, took to the air waves last week. Broadcasting from Schenectady, N. Y. Niles, who was formerly assistant to Wendy Hilty at his Plymouth, N. H., Swiss Ski School, gave New York and New England listeners a vivid word picture of Snow Valley. Conditions permitting, Nat will conduct an informal slalom during the week-end for all skiers who wish to enter.

Paul Kollsman, prominent New Yorker backing the development, announced that the addition of another rope tow as well as a second Alpine lift has been considered in the future expansion of Snow Valley facilities. It is expected that the extra Alpine lift would service an undeveloped portion of the extensive mountainside where new trails could be cut next summer.

Bruins, Stars May Still Play

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—American Red Cross officials expressed hope today some agreement could be worked out whereby a benefit National League All-Star hockey game could be played at Boston.

Plans for the game struck a snag when the Red Cross took the position it could not act as sponsor.

A spokesman here explained this action had to be taken because of an International Red Cross agreement against raising money in other countries. An all-star hockey game would bring Canadian players into action at Boston.

"We were most sympathetic and appreciative of the offer of the hockey game, the spokesman added, "but there are certain agreements that bind us."

'EASY-DOES-IT' STYLE CLICKS FOR HOPPE

CHICAGO, Jan. 24 (AP) — Another world three-cushion billiards championship for Willie Hoppe — his third straight. A 50 to 31 victory over Welker Cochran of San Francisco last night makes it possible. Yet as he stands there accepting congratualtions, Hoppe is showing as much excitement as a grocer weighing out three cucumbers.

A minute before he is perched leisurely on his stool near the green table. His gray head is thrown back, and his eyes peer from under lowered lids. He seems almost detached. It's old stuff to Willie, who's been chalking cues since he was in knee pants. He's 54 now.

NO GRAND STANDING

The scoreboard reads: Hoppe 48, Cochran 31. The inning is the 36th, and Welker has just missed after scoring one point.

Up to the table steps Hoppe in that easy manner he quickly decides on his shot—no pacing and false aiming and mind changing. The white ball leaves his cue, slashes at the red ball, rounds the table and rolls up against the third ball.

"One," intones the referee, and the score now is: Hoppe 49, Cochran 31. Fifty points is game.

The crowd, sitting and standing, tenses and buzzes with kibitzing on what shot Hoppe will use. Cochran leans slightly forward. The referee paces, hands behind his back. The relaxed Hoppe takes his place, strokes his cue in that funny side-arm motion. The crowd hushes.

This is it. His ball touches the red one, pushes it aside, heads for the rail, bounces off, goes on around the table, all the way. Then, momentum falling, it hits the third ball. It's all over.

WILLIE HOPPE

"Weren't you nervous," a well-wisher asks, "when Cochran got ahead of you there at the start? He had you 16 to 13 and was going good."

Hoppe smiles, rewards a "Congratulations" with a "Thank you."

"Still can run them, can't you?" someone else puts in. "That 7 you got in the 15th put you in front, and Welker never did catch up."

MADE BEST RUN

Willie still grins, shakes more hands, and then makes his choice of taking first prize cash of $2500 or $3321.25 in defense bonds. He takes the bonds for his 18 hours' work since Jan. 9.

Hoppe's 25-inning win over Earle Lookabaugh is the meet's best game. Ten points in one inning by Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia is the high run.

The final standings:

SCHOOLBOY HOCKEY TEAMS CLASH ON GARDEN, ARENA ICE

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, SATURDAY, JAN. 24, 1942

Stoneham Tries Luck On Melrose

The Greater Boston Hockey League plays its seventh round at the Boston Garden this afternoon, with the first game starting at 1 o'clock.

Medford and Belmont open the festivities, followed by Cambridge Latin vs. Arlington, Melrose vs. Stoneham and Rindge Tech vs. Newton.

League-leading Melrose will have its hands full, with fourth place Stoneham as an opponent. Although Melrose has tipped over every club in its path, it will have to be wary of the Stoneham gladiators. Stoneham sports a 1-1-1 slate for its trio of games in the league competition.

Guy Wallace, Stoneham's speedy forward, will keep the Melrose defense on its toes.

Medford, with its high scoring line of Phil Sanford, Hubie Davis and Joe Riley, shape up as too powerful for cellarite Belmont.

Cambridge Latin and Arlington, notched in sixth and seventh places, respectively, should be an even battle with neither favored.

Lesnevich Next On Bomber List

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs said that Light Heavyweight Champion Gus Lesnevich would be given first consideration for a March bout with Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis, providing Lesnevich defeats Bob Pastor Jan. 30.

Louis, now a private in the United States Army at Camp Upton, will fight for the Army Relief Society this spring. If Lesnevich is defeated, Pastor, providing he also disposes of Lem Franklin in Cleveland on Feb. 24, would be considered.

Mario Plays For Bruins In Montreal

The Bruins, finally disrupted by war and injuries which have shaken their chances of retaining their world championship, open the first of a home and home series in Montreal tonight with Les Canadiens, the second game to be played here at the Garden tomorrow night.

Frank Mario, 20-year-old forward from Regina, who has been playing with Hershey, reported at Montreal today to Art Ross and will be used in place of the injured Bill Cowley, who is in a Detroit hospital recovering from a compound fracture of the jaw which is expected to sideline him until March.

Mario is expected to center either the second or third Boston lines. Art Jackson may be played in Cowley's place with Wiseman and Conacher for wings, and Mario used with Cain and Hiller in the third line.

Bruins, obviously upset by the happenings of the last week, will now need all their resourcefulness and courage to weather the season ahead. They are faced with the loss of their great Kitchener line, of Milton Schmidt, Bobby Bauer and Woody Dumart on Feb. 5 . . . All three have taken their physical examinations for the Canadian Army, and latest advices are that they will be called up for service with their regiment, the Scottish Fusileers on that date.

Cowley will be able to leave the hospital in a few days and probably will return to Boston and then go to his home in Ottawa to recuperate.

'BAKER'S DOZEN' PICS' GOAL IN GARDEN GAME TONIGHT

The Olympics, in the throes of their greatest win streak, will be back at the Garden tonight for the second night in a row, this time to meet the Washington Eagles in an Eastern Amateur League game.

With Jack McGill continuing his blazing scoring pace, tallying four times and assisting on three other occasions, the locals smothered the Johnstown Blue Birds under an avalanche of rubber to the tune of 10 to 0 to stretch their unbeaten string to 12 last night at the Garden before 10,000 fans.

When the Pics take on the Eagles, they will have more than one score to settle with them. Of the five defeats this year, two were handed them by the Capitol representatives, one at home and the other in Washington. The loss at home was the only one of the season for the Pics.

Last night's shutout was the third in a row on home ice for Vic Polich and his fourth of the season. He blanked Baltimore and River Vale last week-end while his mates were flashing the red light nine times.

Also sharing scoring honors for the night was Jake Wade. He scored the first three out of four goals and assisted on one of McGill's four tallies.

200 to Compete in 'Y' Track Meet Tonight

The annual handicap track meet sponsored by the Boston YMCA is expected to lure more than 200 athletes representing some 30 odd colleges, schools and clubs to the Huntington Avenue "Y" tonight.

With the annual V. F. W. and K. of C. meets cancelled the meet is expected to snare one of the best fields of competition in years.

A distinct tinge of college football is evident in shot-put competition. Angelo Sisti, sophomore sensation at Boston College, and Dick Pfister, Chub Peabody's running mate at Harvard, are the leading entrants. Sisti, 6:2, 206-pound tackle from Providence, is scratchman. As a freshman last year, Angie won the event without too much trouble. Pfister is bound to offer stiff competition. Dick has been doing very well in recent practice sessions. Freshman Pete Gardland of Harvard is a third threat.

The open mile, lone scratch event on the track card, is expected to be a three-cornered duel among Northeastern's tall, lithe limbed Carroll twins, Bill and Bob of Belmont; Mike Prohodsky, another Husky, and Gilbert Dodds, latest of the Flying Parsons, who'll be doing his flying for the B. A. A.

Dodds is the 1940 national collegiate cross-country champion; Bob Carroll is a former N. E. indoor titlist; and Prohodsky is the I. C. 4-A indoor two mile champion.

In the dash, Mel Vincent, former schoolboy ace now running for the B. A. A., Jim Kelleher, B. C. sophomore, and Paul Sweeney, B. C. freshman, are the leading candidates.

Kelleher and Ed McFarland, Y. M. C. A. and former Northeastern ace, are the leading entrants in the high hurdles.

Loop Roof In Doubt At Arena

The tie for first place in the Eastern Mass. League between Dedham and Natick will be shattered this evening at the Arena, unless both teams play deadlock games, when the loop wades into its seventh week of competition.

The program brings Malden and Wakefield together in the first game. Somerville vs. Brookline, Hudson vs. Dedham, and Lexington vs. Natick complete the card.

Both Dedham and Natick have fielded their best teams in years. Both sport identical figures for the season's games, each having won three and lost none in league competition.

Outside of the Natick and Dedham games, the outcome of the remaining clashes will have little bearing on the league standings.

In the event that Wakefield tips over Malden, it stands an excellent chance of moving into a deadlock for the second place.

N. H. GUN CLUB OFFERS AID TO BEGINNERS

The deadline for rifle clubs and enthusiasts desiring to enter this year's William Randolph Hearst Citizen Marksmanship competition is steading drawing nearer. Only six days more remain as the lid closes on all entries next Friday, Jan. 30.

Interest continues to remain at a high pitch not only by the number of clubs that have already entered but by individuals, not connected with any club, but are willing to learn the use of firearms and at the same time join a club.

Citizens, desirious of entering the competition but as yet are not a member of a team, may still enter and the committee will be more than glad to place the individual in some club or the team in a league.

The Klean Kutt Rifle Club of East Jaffrey, N. H., writes that it is willing to co-operate in teaching others the proper use of firearms.

Marine Predicts Win Despite Longer Fight

Garvey Young, U. S. Marine, will try to make it five straight in a Boston ring when he boxes Freddy Cabral, Cambridge, in the feature contest of the Boston Boxing Association card at Mechanics Building next Friday night over the 10-round route.

These boys clashed over the eight-round route in the last show, and many of the fans didn't agree with the decision which gave the bout to the Marine.

Young, who has won 27 in a row, is stationed at the Chelsea Naval Hospital. Since coming here he has beaten Eddie Ellis of Quincy twice, Billy Tordiglione of the North End and Freddy Cabral.

The latter, however, staged a furious late rush that almost gave him the nod, and he figures that over 10 rounds he'll turn the tables.

When Young heard that Cabral was aching for another bout he told Matchmaker Jack O'Brien that he would fight the Cantab battler four, 40 or 60 rounds, and the result would be exactly the same as the last fight, only more decisive.

title holder, and was a runner-up in a Golden Glove tournament.

"Harold Dade, our 118 pounder, was runner-up in the A. A. U. championships. For two years he was a Golden Glove champion. As the Golden Glove title holder, he defeated the A. A. U. champion in the special tournament held in Rochester last summer.

"Eddie Miller, who will represent us in the 126-pound division, was a runner-up in the CYO tournament. He is a newcomer to boxing and he will improve with experience."

Kane did not make any secret of the fact Frankie Bausone in the 135-pound class is one of the best boxers on his team.

"Bausone has been a CYO champion for four years," asserted Paddy. "He is also an Illinois A. C. champion. Bausone has had plenty of ring experience, and I look for him to be one of the stars of Monday night's show.

"Joe Dugo, our 160-pounder, is the CYO welterweight champion. He packed on weight which is why he has graduated into the middleweight division.

"I think we have exceptional strength in the heavier classes. Harry Stevenson, our 175-pounder, is a CYO ring king. He also won in his class against the Hawaii boxers. Stevenson is a southpaw, and is an exceptionally good hitter.

"You will see the greatest fighter of the tournament when Hubert Hood sweeps into action in the heavyweight class. Hood is the best amateur boxer I have seen since Joe Louis was a simon pure.

"Hood is five feet 11 inches tall and weighs 185 pounds. He is a good boxer, and can hit with either hand. I think Hood is a cinch to win in the heavyweight class.

"We have come to Boston with a strong team, and we think we shall win our share of titles.

"Gene Driscoll, Tom Kanaly and George Freeman treated us with such consideration when we had boxers in the A. A. U. title tournaments in Boston that we decided to come here for the All-America finals. Our boxers will prove their worth under fire in the ring."

Embrace

Expressing the joy of acquittal in the slaying of Max Hessel is Mrs. Hazel Barber (left), who admitted she shot Hessel, shown with her sister, Mrs. Harold Leighton, after a Suffolk County jury's "Not Guilty" verdict.

Death for 3

William Graham, a shipyard worker, was held by Baltimore police today, charged with the gun and knife slayings of Mrs. Helen Johnson, her sister, Mrs. Irene Carter, and Herman Etterman, whose bodies (arrows) were found on a suburban Baltimore road.
